Kiwanis Club Plans To Save Timepiece, Bell

Preservation of the Central School clock, timekeeper for the community for 53 years, and its bell has been undertaken as a project by the Kiwanis Club.

The club Thursday formally approved action by the board of directors to dismantle and lower the clock and bell from the 73-foot tower atop the E. 4th St. school and to store them until a suitable site can be obtained.

Rowland Kaufman, chairman of the club committee heading the project, said the clock has been a part of the East Liverpool scene and the lives of students and citizens for more than a half century and deserves to be retained.

THE BRONZE bell was cast in 1870 for the "East Liverpool Common School" by E. J. Fultsmans Son. It measures about 3 feet in diameter at the base and is 30 inches high.

The Kiwanis Club members are scheduled to mount the tower tonight to begin the dismantling of the four 6-foot diameter clock faces, made of frosted glass, the mechanism, supports, draft shafts, gears and motors.

They will be directed by Joseph Persohn, William Persohn and Ken Persohn of Campground Rd. who were in charge of the removal of the bell from the former Trinity United Presbyterian Church on 4th St. to the present church on Maine Blvd.

Viet Cong Use Women And Children As Shield

31 On Each Side Killed In Skirmish

Many Of GIs Are Slain As They Lay Wounded On Field

SAIGON (AP) — A veteran Viet Cong battalion, herding women and children in front as human shields smashed into a company of American paratroopers in three waves early today. Thirty-one Americans were killed and 27 wounded.

The waves of troops from the Viet Cong's Cu Chi Regiment broke through a company from the U.S. 101st Airborne Division 26 miles northwest of Saigon. The Viet Cong and the paratroopers were still locked in battle as night fell.

Thirty-one Viet Cong have been reported killed so far.

AP photographer Max Nash reported from the battlefield that many of the Americans were killed by the Viet Cong as they lay wounded on the field.

The battle was one of three fought northwest and southwest of Saigon today in which, according to incomplete reports, at least 110 of the enemy were killed and 150 persons seized as suspected Viet Cong.

A Communist defector had told U.S. intelligence officers that Viet Cong troops were meeting Thursday in the village of Ap Trang Dau, nine miles from a major allied military base housing the headquarters of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division and a South Vietnamese training base for rangers.

Troops from the 25th Division put a cordon around the village, and the Viet Cong tried unsuccessfully three times to break out.

Suddenly, Nash reported, about 300 enemy troops charged through rice paddies into one American paratroop company 150 yards away. They came in three waves. At command headquarters in Cu Chi, the voice of a radio operator came through: "They are coming, they are coming." Then the radio went dead.

U.S. officers said the first wave of enemy troops came running shoulder-to-shoulder through the night, screaming, firing assault rifles and pushing women and children in front of them as human shields.

After breaking the cordon, the enemy vanished into the darkness, leaving 31 of their own dead on the battlefield. Nash said some of the third wave enemy troops had bamboo poles with them to carry off some of their dead.

In an 18-hour fight that lasted until noon today, other troops from the 9th Division repored killing 40 Viet Cong 13 miles southwest of Saigon and captured 15 tons of rice apparently stockpiled to feed Viet Cong soldiers fighting in the area.

Two Americans were reported killed and nine wounded.

Red Cross Pushes Night Food Flights Into Biafra

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — The Red Cross stepped up its night food flights to Biafra Thursday night as squabbling between the Nigerian and Biafran governments continued to delay the start of a daytime foodlift.

The International Red Cross Committee in Geneva said six planes landed 43 tons of food and medicine and 33 relief and medical workers during the night. A spokesman said the number of flights is likely to be increased in the next few nights.

August Lindt, International Red Cross coordinator for West Africa, was in Biafra Thursday trying to persuade the secessionist leaders to accept Nigeria's condition for not interfering with the planeloads of food and medicine and that they land at a Biafran air strip called Annabelle.

Diplomatic sources said Lindt might return to Lagos if the two sides in the 14-month-old civil war continued to disagree on a landing site.

"We will not change our stand," a Nigerian military spokesman said.

The Nigerians had threatened to shoot down all planes flying into Biafra, contending that they might be carrying arms to the rebels. But they agreed not to interfere for 10 days, starting Thursday, with Red Cross mercy flights going to Annabelle.

Biafra welcomed the agreement but broadcast a proposal Thursday that the mercy planes land instead at Obilago airstrip, in central Biafra.

The Nigerians claim Biafra wants Annabelle left free for planes bringing arms. They reject Obilago as a landing spot because neutralization of that air strip would block the advance of federal troops on the headquarters of Biafra's chief of state, Lt. Col. C. Odumegwu Ojukwu, at Umuahia, 25 miles from the airstrip.

More than 3,500 tons of relief supplies for Biafra are stockpiled at Fernando Poo, a Spanish island off the east Nigerian coast, and the Red Cross and other welfare organizations have made night flights into Biafra despite the Lagos blockade. But they have not been able to carry nearly enough to meet the needs of the Biafrans, thousands of whom are reported dying each day from starvation.

Biafra meanwhile acknowledged that federal forces had broken through the defenses of Aba, largest of the three major towns still held by the rebels when federal troops began a big drive last month to close out the war. The Nigerians announced Wednesday they had captured the town, but Biafrans said then it still was under their control.

Urges Keeping Strong Force In Western Europe

Clifford Presses Missile Defense To Toughen Position With Russia

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford says the United States must toughen its negotiating position toward Russia by pushing missile development and defense.

Clifford also came out strongly for keeping "a significant American military presence in Western Europe," which feels threatened by the concentration of Soviet troops in Czechoslovakia.

The defense chief's statements before the National Press Club were among several developments Thursday to indicate a toughening attitude since the Soviet-led invasion of Czechoslovakia.

Clifford said recent developments confirm that "when and if we negotiate, safety and success demand that we negotiate from strength."

Clifford indicated that he believes the climate may not be right for the arms control talks which the Soviet Union has agreed to.

"We can continue to hope that, at an appropriate time, these talks can take place," he said.

Clifford appeared at the Press Club luncheon after a series of high level policy discussions, including a session of the National Security Council chaired by President Johnson.

Those sessions weighed the implications of Russia's reversion to a hard line, and possible action the United States might take at the diplomatic and military level to shore up Western defenses.

There were the related developments:

—Citing the Czech situation, the State Department announced cancellation of a tour of Russia by the University of Minnesota concert band and a second ceremonial flight marking the start of commercial air service between New York and Moscow.

—Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, commenting after a White House meeting, said there was a possiblity the Senate will not act this year on the nuclear nonproliferation treaty.

—The State Department branded as "indecent and outrageous" attacks in the Soviet press which said the Atlantic Alliance had planned to take over Czechoslovakia before the Russians.

Clifford announced that "in the light of all current developments our prudent course is to press forward as planned with the Sentinel" antimissile system.

Pentagon officials, searching for possible savings to meet congressional demands for a $3-billion defense spending cut this year, had considered delaying a start on the Sentinel for some months.

But Clifford disclosed he had ordered that the $5-billion Sentinel system be exempt from any such economy cuts.

Some critics have contended that the United States should ease off on missile development and put off deploying the Sentinel to avoid triggering a new round in the arms race with Russia.

The Sentinel antimissile system is designed to guard the United States against a relatively small nuclear attack such as Red China might be able to mount in the mid 1970's.

Some senators and military men have proposed that the Sentinel be expanded into a much heavier defense against sophisticated Soviet missiles. Estimated cost of such a heavy defense would be about $40 billion, and civilian analysts claim it would not be effective enough to prevent millions of American deaths.

While opposing any drastic reduction of the 300,000 American servicemen in Western Europe, Clifford implied that the NATO countries should take another look at their policies toward NATO. He did not say so, but few NATO countries have met their troop commitments to the alliance.

Nomination May Die In Committee

Fortas Okay Seen Dim

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders are taking an increasingly dim view of Abe Fortas' chances for confirmation as chief justice and raise the possibility his nomination will die in committee.

President Johnson, however, is pictured as still hopeful Fortas will make it and as giving no indication he might withdraw the nominaton.

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois indicated Thursday that opponents may succeed in keeping the nomination locked up in the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Although Dirksen is supporting the nomination and is the senior Republican on the committee, he said a filibuster in the committee is "the kind you cannot lick."

This is because it is easy for opponents on the committee to keep talking until a meeting is cut off by the start of Senate sessions, Dirksen said.

Under the rules, committees are barred from meeting while the Senate is in session except by unanimous consent.

"I'd say the opposition has hardened and may well have increased," said Majority Leader Mike Mansfield. He termed Fortas' chances of confirmation to succeed Earl Warren "not encouraging."

Mansfield said he just didn't know when the committee might act on the nomination.

Dirksen and Mansfield commented at separate sessions with newsmen. But they agreed that even if the nomination gets out of the judiciary committee, it is doubtful if the necessary two-thirds majority could be obtained to break a filibuster in the Senate.

Stalled by the controversy over Fortas' appointment is Johnson's nomination of another old friend, Federal Judge Homer Thornberry, to be an associate justice of the Supreme Court.

Unless Fortas is confirmed, there won't be any vacancy on the court for Thornberry to fill since Warren has made his retirement is contingent on approval of a successor.

Israel Police Nab 4 More In Bombings

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli police picked up four more Arab suspects in raids before dawn today, bringing to 18 the number of Arabs arrested on suspicion of taking part in bombings in Tel Aviv and Jerusalem.

Only 36 hours after three explosive charges killed one Israeli and wounded 59 at the crowded Tel Aviv bus station, police announced they had captured the bomb squad.

The group from Arab Jerusalem and the West Bank territory seized from Jordan in the 1967 war, was also accused of exploding a bomb in a Jerusalem cafe Aug. 1, a grenade in the courtyard of the U.S. Consulate in east Jerusalem on Aug. 8, and a number of grenades which wounded nine Israelis on Aug. 18 in the Holy City.

$100,000 Loss Set In Pittsburgh Blaze

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Damage from a fire at a muffler shop in suburban Dormont has been estimated at $100,000.

The estimate was made by Mal Steedly, manager of a Midas Muffler Co. shop hit by a two-alarm fire Thursday. He said 90 per cent of the company's stock was destroyed in the blaze that was touched off when a welder's torch ignited gasoline.

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Carl Creach, the local dog catcher, finds his job most relaxing.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Miss Illinois, who floated through the air off a trampoline, and Miss Alabama, who stays curvy despite hot fudge sundaes are second-round winners in the Miss America Pageant.

Judith Ford, 18, the talent winner performed a three-minute acrobatic dance and trampoline exhibition Thursday night.

The Columbia Broadcasting from Belvidere, Ill., was the first to do a trampoline act in Pageant history.

Swimsuit winner Dellynne Catching, a brown-haired beauty from Birmingham, Ala., said she has to diet to keep her 37-24-37 figure. But she said it doesn't keep her from eating hot fudge sundaes.

By their victories, Misses Alabama and Illinois join Miss Iowa and Miss Virginia as preliminary round winners.

Hopes LBJ Ends War By January

HHH Says He Has Better Peace Chance Than Nixon

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey says he thinks he would probably be more likely to bring peace in Vietnam than Richard M. Nixon would. But he hopes the Johnson administration can end the war by January.

The vice president gave these assessments to reporters Thursday night as he returned home for a final weekend of rest before resuming his presidential campaign Monday by riding in a ticker tape parade and speaking to a rally in Philadelphia.

Arriving at Minneapolis-St. Paul International Airport, Humphrey was asked about a CBS report that Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, his defeated Democratic opponent, has felt since March that 1968 is Nixon's year.

"I surely don't believe it and that's the only comment," Humphrey shot back.

Heeephrey shot back.

He was then asked about the report's conclusion that McCarthy "suspects" Nixon would be more likely to settle the war because he is not identified with the policies of the last four years.

"I don't agree with that," Humphrey said, adding, "I think I have every bit as good a chance and maybe a good deal better" to end the war.

"In the meantime," he added, "I am hopeful that the present administration will be able to end that war."

Weatherman Kicks In With Clear Forecast

Unless the weatherman finds it necessary to call an "audible" at the line of scrimmage, fair skies are due for tonight's high school football opener here and for the other games in the district.

With Thursday's heavy rain a thing of the past, the forecast calls for clearing and cooler tonight, with the low in the 50s.

Saturday is to be fair and mild.

At Rogers, a total of 1.6 inches of rain was measured from 7 a.m. Thursday to 7 a.m. today, Mrs Leo Jenkins, weather observer, reported.

Nixon Woos Middle-Class In Vote Drive

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Richard M. Nixon is campaigning for the votes of the nation's middle class—"the forgotten Americans" who he says are threatened by inflation and violence in the streets.

"They work in the offices of America, they work in the factories of America, their sons man the walls of freedom around the world," the Republican presidential candidate told a rally Thursday night.

"These are the forgotten Americans and they have been silent. Silent, but now they are waking up and their voices are being heard. And their voices are going to sweep across America and drown out those who would destroy America," he added.

Today Nixon moves his campaign into the Southwest for a visit to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration installation at Houston, Tex., and then a speech in the Texas city at night.

Like California, Texas is one of the big states Nixon feels he must carry to win the presidency.

second level, with a 5-foot wheel to which a rope was formerly attached to pull the bell, sounding the start and dismissal of classes.

The clock is on the top level, its hands operated from the lower mechanism by means of drive shafts.

Aiding the dismantling of the clock will be Roy Dray of Campground Rd., an electrical engineer who recently supervised the renovation of the clock in the Beaver County Courthouse tower.

—:—

AMONG THE sites considered for the bell is the present Post Office building which will soon be evacuated by the postal operation for the new Post Office on Dresden Ave.

It is hoped the clock and bell will be kept in the Broadway area which has been designated as a cultural district under the city's Comprehensive Plan.

Kaufmann said the project will require the support of the general public, adding he believes the high school alumni and the residents of the city in general are interested in preserving the familiar clock and the bell which has tolled the hour across the valley for such a long time.

Plans call for the mechanism to be stored by the Persohns until disposition can be made.

THE CENTRAL Building and tract has been sold to the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters which plans to raze the structure and erect an apartment complex for the elderly.

Kaufman said the contract with the union calls for preservation of the bell, as a result of the interest of the board of education in the project, and union officials have indicated they do not want to undertake the project themselves but are willing to have a civic group do it.

On the committee with Kaufman are the Rev. Allen Conway, Tait Hilbert, Supt. Paul Blair, Glenn Wilson and Glenn Waight.

Army Procurement Quite Unusual

A Senate subcommittee has chided the Army for highly unusual handling of contracts for production of M16 rifles, but that appears to be as far as it is willing to go.

The panel labeled the Army procedure of awarding contracts to two firms without competitive bidding "a most inept performace."

In view of the fact that two other companies were ready to submit prices lower than those of manufacturers awarded the contracts, the subcommittee could have used a more descriptive word than "inept" in its report.

THE REPORT recommended no attempt be made to revise decisions at this time because: "It would not now serve the national interest to call a halt to the production efforts already under way."

But the subcommittee did not pull any punches in expressing its dissatisfaction over the matter. It said: "The process of obtaining additional production of M16 rifles reflects no credit on those involved in supervising and directing the action."

In short, the whole performance of the Army was an exercise in incompetency that smacks either of stupidity or graft.

The Senate panel is to be commended for documenting damning evidence in the case.

Evidence shows one of the contractors was selected "without considering that their price was $20 million more than other producers found competent by the Army's own evaluation."

SOMETHING IS drastically wrong with a procurement system that functions so poorly under pressure to increase production. Some immediate changes are in order.

In its conclusion, the subcommittee said: "Certainly, however, this should be the last time that any defense agency conducts a procurement in such an awkward, unreasonable manner."

We doubt the Army will heed the advice of the Senate group unless a provision is made for a follow-up investigation. We believe that provision should be made.

Nostalgia And Practicality

Is it overly sentimental to spend energy and effort to preserve the creaky town clock atop the crumbling tower of the doomed Central School?

Is it worthwhile for the Kiwanis Club to undertake dismantling of the 53-year-old mechanism and lowering of the wieghty bell for storing until another site can be found?

Humans have a curious fascination about the passage of time and the devices employed to measure it. Deep in drawers and attic boxes across America are silent, unworkable watches and clocks, once presented as gifts, worn out with years of marking births, weddings, deaths and the trivia of life, now kept as treasures of memory.

In terms of practicality, the school clock is in unexpectedly good condition, authorities report, and worth no small amount of money to repair and maintenance firms just for the parts it might provide for other mechanisms.

But in the minds of most city residents, it is valued as a rare piece of community tradition, one of the few symbols of the city which has been a part of the scenery and the local atmosphere for more than seven decades. It has been viewed from throughout the downtown area and across the Ohio, and its booming chime has been heard out St. Clair Ave., at Pleasant Heights, in Chester and greater distances on a quiet evening.

It is depicted in most ELHS yearbooks, many city paintings and photographs, cherished in the minds of thousands of graduates who were students at the foot of its tower.

So the project of the club is justifiable — not only as civic responsibility but as saving a valuable working machine, preserving a bit of the city's past, investing in the type of nostalgia which is vital to community spirit and pride, and guaranteeing a clock in the downtown area within sight and earshot of both practical and sentimental people who want to know the time.

Letters To The Editor

Levy Opposed

Now it is September and almost time to vote again on a levy proposed by the superintendent and school board of our district. Please be aware that this issue is not to expire in a five or ten year period, but is a continuous tax. It would be advisable to check this, also just how many mills the school district is allowed to levy.

It would also be wise to remember there are tax levies which are not applied to your taxes yet, but will be within the next two years.

According to an article which appeared in a local paper the school district is not permited the levying of new taxes unless the rate was reflected in the school district's budget, which had to be filed in July. So why should it be necessary to have a special election, if the money could not be used until next year? There—it could be voted on at the election in November and save the unnecessary expense of an election in September.

It seems to me if the school board members have closed down and sold a number of school buildings, the expense of the new buildings should be considered less on the upkeep, and maintenance and custodian salaries, so why should we need more taxes? It seems as though the officials do not care how or when they waste the taxpayer's money.

So there is only one thing to do, and that is to vote "no", on the school levies and stop this unnecessary taxing and more taxing.

GERALD D. ANTHONY
Cannons Mill Rd.

Levy Supported

The Titanic was a majestic and beautiful ocean liner built to weather the awful storms of the Atlantic and to provide efficient passage to hundreds of passengers during each trip. But it hit upon a cold, immoveable iceberg and sank to the bottom taking hundreds of lives with it.

Here in East Liverpool we have a beautiful multi-million dollar complex of schools designed to provide efficient passage of our children through their critical years of learning.

The administration and the school board (both composed of different individuals since the first storm warnings of financial difficulty) have sent up distress signals to the citizenry of East Liverpool. Up to now, these distress signals have gone unheeded.

The school system of East Liverpool does not exist in a vacuum. Like the Titanic, it must weather the storms of increasing materials and labor costs. Its employees deserve their monetary rewards for keeping it on an even keel. Dedication to duty is an admirable virtue, but difficult to maintain in the face of an impassive and unresponsive public.

Drenched by tides of ever widening gaps between the meager salaries paid in our own system and those of systems contiguous to our own, our administration has valiantly managed to provide a well qualified teaching staff on a dwindling budget. But the seams of the system are stretched to the breaking point.

Another distress signal is being sent up on Sept. 17. A special election is being presented to the voters to give them the chance to save the system represented by our beautiful new buildings. The voters are asked to renew the present lean operating budget of twelve mills and to approve an additional seven mills to meet new standards set by the State and to meet increased labor costs.

Will the people of East Liverpool ignore this distress signal again — and like the iceberg that sank the Titanic — send thousands of children to a watery grave of academic oblivion?

Driver Criticized

I would like to direct this letter to the person who drove the blue pickup truck that ran my daughter off Bell School Rd. into a ditch around 2:30 p.m. Monday.

Dear sir or madam, whichever the case may be: Do you realize that by holding the center of the road, you forced a young girl to drive her car into a ditch where she lost control and in turn demolished the car and hurt a passenger?

I think that you must need a course in driver education. Although it only takes common sense to know that just because there are no lines painted, you cannot drive in the middle—especially when you are coming over a blind rise in the road—which was the case Monday.

And it's really only common courtesy to stop after you have forced someone off the road to see if they are hurt.

Fortunately, no one was seriously injured, but one girl did need medical attention.

So please, before you hurt someone seriously, instead of frightening someone badly, read a driver manual and pay attention to your driving. The next mistake you make could stop you dead.

Bond Issue Backed

To the parents of the Beaver Local School District:

I urge you to pass the 2-mill bond issue Tuesday, September 10, 1968. Passage of this issue will mean better facilities for our children.

Due to the rapid growth of this district each year, enrollment is increased by at least 100 students. Our high school which was chartered by the state as a four-year school and built for 550 students now has over 600 students in the top three grades with the ninth grade going to the elementary school. Our elementary school was built for 650 students and now nearly 1,000 are enrolled. The Calcutta Grade School was built for 350 students and now has 594 attending.

Therefore, to enlarge our present facilities so our children may obtain a better education, I strongly urge you to vote for the bond issue Tuesday.

Chicago Violence Planned

CHICAGO — Okay, let's talk about violence. You've been reading about "the pigs." Now let me tell you about the Rat — and other "subterranean newspapers," organs of the rioters, and about black flags, National Liberation Front banners designed in Hanoi, and carefully executed invasion of this tortured city by select and skillfully trained "street-action committees."

Victor Riesel

The record will show that one of the official newspapers of the hippie-yippie folk weeks ago directed their people on "Burn down Chicago."

And, to come and "vomit" on it. This is "in" talk for provoking the police and national guardsmen into heaving tear gas which whips up nausea and retching.

Plainly, these newspapers, published in New York days before the Democratic National Convention, told their followers to give Chicago a dose of concentration, rioting and fornication in Lake Michigan's beaches.

The invasion rolled like Soviet brass in Prague streets. The sleeping bagtoting, self-proclaimed revolutionists, caressing their black banners and Viet Cong standards, came here loaded — with money. The New York delegation which left there last Monday had at least $10,000 in its brackish jeans.

THEY CAME FROM both coasts — some by bus and some by family car. They were swiftly organized along military lines. Their "democratic-action squad," each led by trained street rioters, charged the Chicago police, slipped from under and let the second line, mostly girls and young "men" who could not fight their way out of a paperbag, take it on the skull.

Their leader was and is Hanoi's disciple, Tom Hyden. The record discloses that he was in Newark just before a huge chunk of that city was ripped by riots.

There is no doubt that the black flag-carrying militants took a terrible beating from the police. Those cops are tough. So were the convention security guards. I know. I'm now qualified for convention purple heart. I was knocked down by Lester Maddox guards in the Hilton lobby.

I was jerked to my haunches when I leaned over a rail on nomination night and shouted in an effort to attract the attention of banner-waving labor leaders in George Meany's box. I was poked in the stomach. And when I wedged myself in between some of the unshaven in the park I whiffed tear gas.

But that doesn't change the record. Tom Hayden's own words in the Rat revealed that he wanted to get his rioters into the eye of global television to prove to the world that the U.S. was "Hitlerite."

"THEY, THE MARCHERS," he wrote in the Rat, "should come to Chicago emphasizing the issues, carrying red, black or National Liberation Front flags, creating small democratic action committees, baiting and scoffing the delegates."

"People the world over, watching the proceedings of TV will be confirmed in their feelings that a Hitlerite mentality has taken over America, which must be isolated — America's reactionary allies will become shakier as they observe that the natives are rising even at the master's feet."

Hayden, master-maker of demonstrations, then told his young people that Chicago "will be a beautiful opportunity . . . " for "creative tactics" carried on by "small self-reliant groups."

These action committees which "grow out of movement centers," said Hayden, "would create centers of insurgency everywhere."

It is in a publication called Realist, edition number 82, Sept. 1968, that Abbie Hoffman, yippie leader, talks of burning down Chicago and arranging a massive, if somewhat sandy, orgy on the beaches, presumably out of reach of the flames.

It is all there — the plans for the abortive march on the Amphitheatre, the strategy for disturbing the delegates, the talk of raiding the hotels, bars and night clubs.

AS HAD BEEN PLANNED in New York City's East Village and in Berkeley, Calif., it all moved on a meticulous time table. Delegates were harassed. Stink bombs stenched up the Hilton lobby. Pickets screeched pornographically at the cops. At the scheluled moment the police lines were charged — and telegrams were dispatched by the demonstrators to Lyndon Johnson, the Justice Dept. and the UN.

Some demonstratirs lost their teeth and clothes. Some cops lost control and became wild men. Mayor Daley lost his cool. Some labor leaders in the Hilton almost lost their senses and were about to call in "troops" of their own to give the invaders a dose of their own medicine.

Now there's to be an investigation. Good. Let it come. Let all sides be probed. And now let's have the intelligent records, the reports of the federal and local infiltrators, the transcripts of the wiretaps.

Just as the hippie-yippie crowd has the right to demonstrate, so the public has the right to know who really leads them.

Exactly who are the action committees? Exactly why and whose funds pay for this resurgi- why do they burn only the American flag? Exactly why and whose funds pay for this resurgitation on the streets of America?

Austria Worried

The United States government knew of the preparations for the invasion of Czechoslovakia at least 20 days before it happened.

A memorandum prepared by the Central Intelligence Agency was distributed throughout the government Aug. 2 to the effect that military preparations had been completed in a fortnight's time which would be adequate for an intervention in Czechoslovakia if deemed necessary.

Also, on Aug. 20, the day before the invasion occurred President Johnson had a luncheon with high officials at which Soviet strategy was discussed. Reports of a Soviet Central Committee meeting to be held that same day were available which indicated a decision by the Soviet government to move into Czechoslovakia.

The reports were based on the character of the exercises near the borders of Czechoslovakia which appeared to be a rehearsal for military intervention.

IN ONE SENSE the information about the Soviet plans was not particularly difficult to obtain, because when a force of at least 200,000 is mobilized, there are evidences which cannot escape observation by the public.

President Johnson has been criticized by Austria for not having made a much more pointed protest about the invasion of Czechoslovakia. This may account for the fact that on Aug. 30 President Johnson, in a speech at San Antonio, Tex., decided to speak out against another possible act of aggression aimed at another country in Europe — presumably Romania. He said:

"It is clear to me that the leaders in Moscow have felt that their interests were threatened by the emergence of even modest degrees of independence and human liberty. And there are even rumors late this evening that this action (in Czechoslovakia) might be repeated somewhere else in eastern Europe."

While the Soviet government sent its ambassador to Secretary Rusk on Saturday to deny any such plan, Austria is growing more and more worried. Diplomats in Vienna express regret concerning what they term the passive attitude of the United States, and point out that Austria now has to reckon with he presence of 600000 Warsaw Pact troops across its northern borders.

The Austrian officials say that, even if the occupation troops should be gradually withdrawn from Czechoslovakia, the Soviets will still keep large forces along the Austria-Czech border, and this isn't very comfortable.

What the Vienna government would like to see is a clear-cut American statement that the United States will not tolerate any change in the status quo of the neutral zones in Europe.

France also is becoming restless, and has made a strong demand to the Soviets to withdraw promptly their forces from Czechoslovakia. There is a fear expressed in Paris, moreover, that the next country to be invaded will be Romania. West Germany, too, is disturbed by recent developments in Czechoslovakia.

Meanwhile, officials of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization are beginning to revise their defense plans and to call for a new pronouncement of policy by the United States with respect to the retention of troops in Europe. Since last March more than 30,000 American troops have been pulled out and relocated in the United States.

It has been said that they could quickly be returned to Europe. But the Soviet invasion has convinced NATO officials that the United States military forces would have arrived too late if a Soviet attack had been begun against any one of the NATO countries.

FOR THE TIME BEING, President Johnson's warning to the Soviets that the United States would not condone "unbridled aggression" is being circulated throughout Europe as a form of assurance. President Johnson, in his San Antonio speech last Friday, also said:

"I express the hope and the belief that there will be no condoning of aggressors and no appeasement of those who prowl across national boundaries — by this or by any other administration."

It may be taken for granted that both presidential candidates share President Johnson's view and that the United States, despite the occurrence of a presidential election, is not going to change its policy of defending the people of Europe, for whom so many Americans sacrificed their lives in World War II.

Army Procurement Quite Unusual

A Senate subcommittee has chided the Army for highly unusual handling of contracts for production of M16 rifles, but that appears to be as far as it is willing to go.

The panel labeled the Army procedure of awarding contracts to two firms without competitive bidding "a most inept performace."

In view of the fact that two other companies were ready to submit prices lower than those of manufacturers awarded the contracts, the subcommittee could have used a more descriptive word than "inept" in its report.

THE REPORT recommended no attempt be made to revise decisions at this time because: "It would not now serve the national interest to call a halt to the production efforts already under way."

But the subcommittee did not pull any punches in expressing its dissatisfaction over the matter. It said: "The process of obtaining additional production of M16 rifles reflects no credit on those involved in supervising and directing the action."

In short, the whole performance of the Army was an exercise in incompetency that smacks either of stupidity or graft.

The Senate panel is to be commended for documenting damning evidence in the case.

Evidence shows one of the contractors was selected "without considering that their price was $20 million more than other producers found competent by the Army's own evaluation."

SOMETHING IS drastically wrong with a procurement system that functions so poorly under pressure to increase production. Some immediate changes are in order.

In its conclusion, the subcommittee said: "Certainly, however, this should be the last time that any defense agency conducts a procurement in such an awkward, unreasonable manner."

We doubt the Army will heed the advice of the Senate group unless a provision is made for a follow-up investigation. We believe that provision should be made.

Nostalgia And Practicality

Is it overly sentimental to spend energy and effort to preserve the creaky town clock atop the crumbling tower of the doomed Central School?

Is it worthwhile for the Kiwanis Club to undertake dismantling of the 53-year-old mechanism and lowering of the wieghty bell for storing until another site can be found?

Humans have a curious fascination about the passage of time and the devices employed to measure it. Deep in drawers and attic boxes across America are silent, unworkable watches and clocks, once presented as gifts, worn out with years of marking births, weddings, deaths and the trivia of life, now kept as treasures of memory.

In terms of practicality, the school clock is in unexpectedly good condition, authorities report, and worth no small amount of money to repair and maintenance firms just for the parts it might provide for other mechanisms.

But in the minds of most city residents, it is valued as a rare piece of community tradition, one of the few symbols of the city which has been a part of the scenery and the local atmosphere for more than seven decades. It has been viewed from throughout the downtown area and across the Ohio, and its booming chime has been heard out St. Clair Ave., at Pleasant Heights, in Chester and greater distances on a quiet evening.

It is depicted in most ELHS yearbooks, many city paintings and photographs, cherished in the minds of thousands of graduates who were students at the foot of its tower.

So the project of the club is justifiable — not only as civic responsibility but as saving a valuable working machine, preserving a bit of the city's past, investing in the type of nostalgia which is vital to community spirit and pride, and guaranteeing a clock in the downtown area within sight and earshot of both practical and sentimental people who want to know the time.

Letters To The Editor

Levy Opposed

Now it is September and almost time to vote again on a levy proposed by the superintendent and school board of our district. Please be aware that this issue is not to expire in a five or ten year period, but is a continuous tax. It would be advisable to check this, also just how many mills the school district is allowed to levy.

It would also be wise to remember there are tax levies which are not applied to your taxes yet, but will be within the next two years.

According to an article which appeared in a local paper the school district is not permitted the levying of new taxes unless the rate was reflected in the school district's budget, which had to be filed in July. So why should it be necessary to have a special election, if the money could not be used until next year? There—it could be voted on at the election in November and save the unnecessary expense of an election in September.

It seems to me if the school board members have closed down and sold a number of school buildings, the expense of the new buildings should be considered less on the upkeep, and maintenance and custodian salaries, so why should we need more taxes? It seems as though the officials do not care how or when they waste the taxpayer's money.

So there is only one thing to do, and that is to vote "no", on the school levies and stop this unnecessary taxing and more taxing.

Levy Supported

The Titanic was a majestic and beautiful ocean liner built to weather the awful storms of the Atlantic and to provide efficient passage to hundreds of passengers during each trip. But it hit upon a cold, immoveable iceberg and sank to the bottom taking hundreds of lives with it.

Here in East Liverpool we have a beautiful multi-million dollar complex of schools designed to provide efficient passage of our children through their critical years of learning.

The administration and the school board (both composed of different individuals since the first storm warnings of financial difficulty) have sent up distress signals to the citizenry of East Liverpool. Up to now, these distress signals have gone unheeded.

The school system of East Liverpool does not exist in a vacuum. Like the Titanic, it must weather the storms of increasing materials and labor costs. Its employees deserve their monetary rewards for keeping it on an even keel. Dedication to duty is an admirable virtue, but difficult to maintain in the face of an impassive and unresponsive public.

Drenched by tides of ever widening gaps between the meager salaries paid in our own system and those of systems contiguous to our own, our administration has valiantly managed to provide a well qualified teaching staff on a dwindling budget. But the seams of the system are stretched to the breaking point.

Another distress signal is being sent up on Sept. 17. A special election is being presented to the voters to give them the chance to save the system represented by our beautiful new buildings. The voters are asked to renew the present lean operating budget of twelve mills and to approve an additional seven mills to meet new standards set by the State and to meet increased labor costs.

Will the people of East Liverpool ignore this distress signal again — and like the iceberg that sank the Titanic — send thousands of children to a watery grave of academic oblivion?

McCarthy Supporters Press For 4th-Party Ballot Slots

By The Associated Press

Die-hard supporters of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy are pushing for fourth-party slots on the ballots of several states, despite McCarthy's removal of his name as fast as it gets on some ballots.

An Associated Press survey shows McCarthy backers are working hardest in 12 states.

The push was successful in Indiana and Iowa, but McCarthy asked that his name be stricken.

Workers are still busy circulating petitions in Minnesota, Tennessee, Rhode Island, New Hampshire, Vermont, Arizona, Florida, Delaware, Nebraska and California.

The threat of a fourth-party drive drawing disenchanted voters from the regular parties was compounded Thursday by the defection of a second Southern governor from the Democratic ticket.

Gov. John Bell Williams said he and the Missisippi delegation rejected by the Democratic convention would support third-party candidate George C. Wallace.

Gov. John J. McKeithen of Louisiana denounced the Democratic ticket earlier, although he stopped short of a formal endorsement for Wallace.

Wallace was resting in Miami Beach, Fla., today.

Richard M. Nixon, the only touring presidential campaigner for the moment, hopped across the country, receiving exhuberant, sizeable receptions in San Francisco and Santa Clara University in California.

Democratic Presidential candidate Hubert H. Humphrey was at his Waverly, Minn., summer home, where he told questioning newsmen he doen't agree that Nixon has the best chance of ending the Vietnam war.

307 Train Under Manpower Program Of County In 1968

A total of 307 persons received training at East Liverpool and Salem during fiscal 1968 ending in June, according to a report of the Manpower Development and Training program in Ohio from Gov. James Rhodes.

Throughout the state, a total of 8,649 were enrolled in 212 institutional job training courses, the report showed.

In East Liverpool, four courses were offered for 103 trainees, with an allowance of $26,583 and an educational cost of $13,513. At Salem, four courses were offered for 204 trainees with an allowance of $101,439 and an educational cost of $85,892.

The results of a statewide survey conducted among 61 per cent of those who completed training revealed that four out of five persons (or 80.4 per cent) were able to obtain employment following their training or retraining for a job under the provisions of MDTA.

"One can safely say that under this program there are thousands of persons who have been made employable who otherwise would have to be on welfare or relief," Willard P. Dudley, administrator of the Bureau of Employment Services, reported to Rhodes. "One of the reasons for the high percentage of jobs found for these people was the fact that they were trained for a specific job and not placed in training just for the sake of training."

The report said that total cost of the training for the fiscal year was $10,208,342, which included $5,661,361 for allowances to students and $4,646,981 for educational facilities.

W. Va. Voter Signup Laws Antiquated, Callebs Claims

CLARKSBURG (AP) — Voter registration laws in West Virginia are antiquated and should be revised along the lines of modern business procedures, John S. Callebs said Thursday.

Speaking to Young Republicans at a meeing here, Callebs, the GOP secretary of state nominee, said West Virginia should reduce its one-year residency requirement for voters.

"Many voters are disenfranchised because they move from one state to another," Callebs said. "Frequently these persons are among the most active and productive group of citizens. They are aware and ambitious and they move around the country to take company promotions and new jobs.

"Today's society," Callebs said, "is urban and highly mobile. But our voter registration laws were designed for the 19th Century, when society was rural and agricultural and people did not move around much."

In the past, Callebs said, voter residency requirements were made lengthy because it took a long time for new residents to become aware of local and state political issues.

"But today, with our rapid and extensive means of communications it doesn't take any time at all for a new resident to find out what is happening," he added. "The one - year requirement here is unrealistic, especially in a presidential election year."

"Besides," Callebs said, "why should people have to pay taxes in this state if they are not entitled to vote? We don't require people to live here a year before they pay taxes. We don't require that new residents live here a year before they apply for a drivers' license, yet the simple act of moving across a state line cancels out their right to vote.

"There is something wrong with a voter registration system that prohibits living, breathing and taxpaying newcomers from voting and while it permits the dead to vote."

RED NOSE

Q. About two years ago (I am 40) I began having signs of arthritis. At about the same time my nose flared up and is now quite red. Any connection? Any treatment for the red nose?

A. The two conditions are probably not related and, of the two, the red nose may be more difficult to manage than the arthritis. Both problems should be discussed with your physician.

MUSCLE MEN

Q. How is it possible for weight-lifters to raise tremendous loads without injuring the back?

A. General muscular development and "know-how" are obviously needed to lift heavy weights. The theoretical maximum lift is something like 500 pounds. Much of the lifted weight is suspended by the spinal column. The rubbery pads (interveterbral discs) which fit between each bone of the spine withstand pressures up to 1000 pounds. So the weight-lifter comes nowhere near lifting enough to crush the spine.

Paper Says Chandler Wallace Running Mate

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Former Kentucky Gov. A. B. Chandler has been picked as the running mate for third party presidential hopeful George Wallace, the Louisville Courier-Journal said today.

The newspaper, quoting a reliable source, said the announcement will be made Tuesday at a news conference in Washington.

Balloting Due On ASC Aides

LISBON — Columbiana County farmers have until Sept. 16 to vote for community committees to assist the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

J. Glenn Bates, county ASC chairman, said ballots have been mailed to all known eligible voters. Ballots may be obtained at the county office at 41 N. Park Ave. here.

"Generally, a farm owner, tenant or sharecropper is eligible to vote if he is eligible to take part in one or more of the programs administered by the ASC committee," Bates said.

Envelopes containing marked ballots may be mailed or returned to the county office, where they will be tabulated publicly by the county committee Sept. 18.

Each of 11 communities will elect a committee made up of three regular members and two alternates. The chairman, vice chairman and third regular member are determined by the number of votes. They become delegates to the county ASC convention within the next few weeks.

Delegates to the convention will elect farmers to fill vacancies on the county committee and also will determine which of the regular county committeemen will serve as chairman and vice chairman for the coming year.

Bates said community committees assist the county committee in administering price support, acreage diversion, agricultural conservation and other farm - action programs. Community committeemen are responsible for keeping their neighbors informed about the various programs, he added.

'Bill Of Particulars' Denied In Auto Case

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today denied a motion for a bill of particulars — a more specific statement of the alleged facts — from a motorist accused of four violations by a constable.

Overruling the motion made by George A. Aronson, counsel for Francis William Cornman of Dixonville, the court ruled that law does not allow a bill of particulars in a misdemeanor case. Solicitor J. Michael Kapp appeared for the state.

Cornman was cited Aug. 20 by Constable Thomas Edgell of Liverpool Township on charges of failure to comply with an officer's order; attempting to elude an officer; reckless driving and operating a car after his driver's license was suspended. His hearing is due next Wednesday.

They're accused in the death of Joseph Gatalsky, 42, who was shot on a sidewalk near the Greyhound bus station in downtown Pittsburgh Aug. 28.

Miss Howze admitted at the hearing that she had falsely given detectives her name as Tracy Morgan and her age as 18 when she was arrsted.

Both were cited by special constables at the store.

Harold D Smith, 37, of 652 Minerva St. was fined $250 and costs and sentenced to five days in jail for driving while under suspension of his license. Murphy of Railroad St., Negley, $10 and costs, speeding; Gerald L. Dailey of Rogers, $15 and costs, improper passing.

Mishap Probed

Bid To Oust Police Chief Dies At Ohioville Meeting

OHIOVILLE — Andrew (Pat) Daniels, Democrat councilman, asked for the replacement of Police Chief Bernard Zlatovich during a meeting of borough Council Thursday night at the fire hall.

Daniels presented a motion for the removal of Zlatovich, citing "disorganization of the police dpartment and failure of the police to perform their duties." The motion further stipulated that Assistant Chief Michael Haydin succeed Zlatovich.

—:—

THE MOTION died on the floor for lack of a second.

When asked about the incident this morning, Chief Zlatovich refused to comment other than to say, "I feel that any complaints against my department should be taken up with the police committee of Council rather than by someone trying to play politics with the police department."

Zlatovich was in the audience, but made no comment during the Council meeting. Zlatovich is a Democrat. Haydin is a Republican.

In other business, Council approved appointment of four auxiliary police — Frank Pucci and William Hornberger, both of Meadowbrook Estates, Ronald Anusich of Highland Acres, Smiths Ferry, and Gelindo Malignani of Midlandview.

The police committee will attend a special meeting with Mayor Elmer R. Gifford as soon as possible to consider the appointment of a part-time policeman from the list. The part-time officer will receive $65 a month for expenses, but no regular salary.

Zlatovich reported he has received some "No Dumping" signs from the Beaver County Health Department and they will be posted at various spots in the borough.

In the absence of Gifford, Paul Dawson, council president, presented the police report for August, listing 40 complaints investigated and three traffic voilation arrests.

—:—

THE ROADS committee reported four new tires have been purchased and mounted on the borough truck. The committee also reported a salt stabilization program is nearing completion on Orchard Dr. and Longview Dr. and roads in the Reed Plan.

The names of James Christy and Howard Todd, both of Smiths Ferry RD 1, were submitted to the roads committee for consideration for appointment as road foreman.

Council adopted an ordinance accepting the upkeep of Center St., Midlandview, a private street used by residents of the area.

Council authorized the finance committee to meet with Daniel C. Baker, borough engineer, to study the possibility of resurfacing all the borough roads at one time.

Council possibly will have to submit a bond issue or apply for state funds if this is done.

Bills totaling $1,261 were paid. The next meeting will be Oct. 3 at 8 p. m.

We're Certain You'll Stop AGAIN

PLEASE DON'T HURT MY LITTLE GIRL

IN a few days, my 7-year old daughter will start back to school. She's so thrilled. Has been readying for the big event all week. . . . what she'll take, what she'll wear, and things like that. Her pet spaniel, "Scoot", can't understand . . . he just follows her around and whines now and then

LAST night, we talked a bit about school. About new girls she'd likely meet . . . about big girls who don't believe in Santa Claus . . . about boys who make funny faces . . . and teachers with eyes in the back of their heads. We talked about many vital things, even brushed up on studies like Reading and Spelling. Then I tucked her in bed, with her doll "Princess" cuddled in her arm.

As her mother, I'm worried. You see, I can fix things when she cuts her finger or bumps her head. But when she's off to school, crossing streets, she's in your hands. You won't hurt her . . . will you, Please?

SHE'S very sweet and precious . . . we love her so. Runs like a deer, active as a chipmunk. Likes to swim, go on hikes with her daddy. But, we can't be with her all the time . . . especially to and from school.

PLEASE won't you help us protect her? Won't you please Drive Carefully past schools and at intersections? And please remember that children do run out from behind parked cars.

PLEASE DON'T HURT MY LITTLE GIRL

IN a few days, my 7-year old daughter will start back to school. She's so thrilled. Has been readying for the big event all week. . . . what she'll take, what she'll wear, and things like that. Her pet spaniel, "Scoot", can't understand . . . he just follows her around and whines now and then

LAST night, we talked a bit about school. About new girls she'd likely meet . . . about big girls who don't believe in Santa Claus . . . about boys who make funny faces . . . and teachers with eyes in the back of their heads. We talked about many vital things, even brushed up on studies like Reading and Spelling. Then I tucked her in bed, with her doll "Princess" cuddled in her arm.

As her mother, I'm worried. You see, I can fix things when she cuts her finger or bumps her head. But when she's off to school, crossing streets, she's in your hands. You won't hurt her . . . will you, Please?

SHE'S very sweet and precious . . . we love her so. Runs like a deer, active as a chipmunk. Likes to swim, go on hikes with her daddy. But, we can't be with her all the time . . . especially to and from school.

PLEASE won't you help us protect her? Won't you please Drive Carefully past schools and at intersections? And please remember that children do run out from behind parked cars.

Kiwanians Elevate Allen To President-Elect Post

Dayton Allen, operator of Allen's Shoe Store on Washington St., was elevated to president-elect of the Kiwanis Club during the annual election Thursday in the Travelers Hotel

Allen, of Glenmor, who has been first vice president, will succeed Ronald K. Mason at installation ceremonies in January.

A native of the Marietta area, Allen was in radio work for some time before entering the shoe business. He was with stores in Newark and in Kentucky before coming to East Liverpool in 1951

He has served as president of the East Liverpool Merchants Association for three years.

Allen and his wife have a son, James Allen of Fairfield, a trust officer for a bank.

—:—

OTHER new officers are James Locke, first vice president, and Glenn Waight, second vice president. Harry George was returned as treasurer.

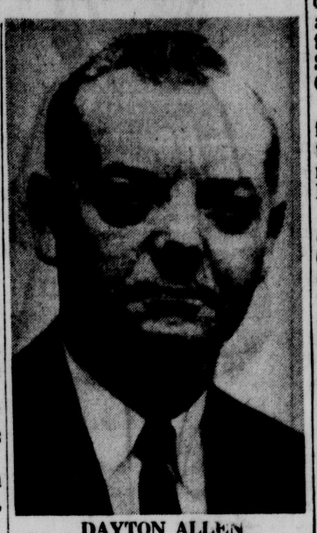
New directors are Robert Gessford, Alex Kidd, Harry Wright, Robert Stewart and James Reaney.

Fred Simmen, club member, discussed the war in South Vietnam, declaring opponents of U.S. involvement are distorting the true issues and the nature of the American motivation.

He pointed out this nation is meeting a treaty obligation to provide military assistance, and that failure to meet the obligation would jeoparize the fate of other smaller nations threatened by Communism.

As for the claim of an "immoral" undertaking in the war, he said the Viet Cong have no qualms about killing civilians either in fighting or in terrorism in non - combat cities.

Simmen said the conflict is not a civil war, because North Vietnam has been sending in regular troops in great numbers for over seven years. Furthermore, U.S. troops have been authorized legally by presidential action, supported by Congress in the Gulf of Tonkin resolution.



DAYTON ALLEN
Begins Duties In January.

A PROPOSED coalition government was not seen as a solution to the peaceful settlement of the war by Simmen, who said the Communists would continue the power struggle behind the scenes as they did in Czechoslovakia in 1948 and elsewhere, eventually taking over the country.

He struck out at claims the U.S. is without aid by other nations. He said Australia, New Zealand, North Korea, the Philippines and Thailand are providing more allied forces than were present in the Korean War.

The negotiations at Paris were seen as a typical Communist use of the parley as another weapon of war, seeking to gain at the conference table what could not be won on the battlefield.

Simmen concluded by saying the anti - war groups are injuring the chances of a solid victory in South Vietnam and jeopardizing the effectiveness of the war effort. A question - and-answer period followed.

Mason announced the annual club outing and the division meeting will be held Wednesday at the Vagabond Lodge on Route 30.

Rash Of Area Mishaps Linked To Heavy Rain

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon investigated a rash of minor accidents attributed in great part to Thursday's heavy rain.

A 1965 sedan driven by Curtis R. Hague, 65, was demolished in a mishap on Route 7 south of Middle Beaver Rd. at 4:30 p.m.

The patrol said Hague was heading south when he lost control on the wet pavement and his car struck the east side of a bridge, spun around and rammed the span again.

At 7:30, Hague was treated at City Hospital for abrasions and contusions of the temple and abrasions of the back. The hospital authorities listed Hague as residing at 113 Harrison St., Newell.

Also at 4:30 p.m., the patrol investigated an accident on Route 30, a mile north of East Liverpool.

Thomas S. Robinson, 21, of Grant St., Newell, driving his 1965 sedan south on Route 30, lost control and spun around, ran off the right side of the road and struck an embankment. There was light damage to his car.

At 6 p. m., on Route 7, approximately a half - mile north of Middle Beaver Rd., James F. Miller, 60, of Weirton, operating a 1967 sedan northbound, lost control on the wet pavement spun around and went off the left side of the road.

At 8:30 Thursday morning, Harold P. Ferguson, 66, of Steubenville was driving north on Route 7, south of Route 517, when he lost control of his 1966 station wagon on the wet pavement, went off the left sde and struck an embankmet. Ferguson complained of injuries, but was not treated. He was cited by the patrol for speeding.

Drifting Auto Strikes Home

An auto drifted away from a parking place on Grant St. Thursday, coasted down grade and rammed a home in the 800 block of Dresden Ave., police reported.

The 1959 sedan owned by Ben W. Dilla of 301 Grant St. hit a house at 813 Dresden Ave. after knocking down a wooden fence and a cement block wall and tearing up a shrub, officers said. Two shingles were broken on the side of the house. The owner was identified tentatively as Dorothy Tarr.

Dilla told Patrolman Charles Coen that a friend, Charles Watson, asked to borrow his car. Dilla said he replied the car was out of gas, but Watson could use the auto if he put some fuel in the tank.

Watson tried unsuccessfully to push the car away from the curb in order to drift it downgrade to a service station. Unable to budge the car, he walked to a service station to obtain gasoline. After he left, the car of its own volition rolled away from the parking place, crossed Dresden Ave. and plowed into the house, officers said.

Police said the car had been parked in the same spot since Friday. Investigation after the mishap showed the gear shift was in neutral and the emergency brake was not engaged, officers said. The mishap was timed at noon.

Rash Of Area Mishaps Linked To Heavy Rain

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon investigated a rash of minor accidents attributed in great part to Thursday's heavy rain.

A 1965 sedan driven by Curtis R. Hague, 65, was demolished in a mishap on Route 7 south of Middle Beaver Rd. at 4:30 p.m.

The patrol said Hague was heading south when he lost control on the wet pavement and his car struck the east side of a bridge, spun around and rammed the span again.

At 7:30, Hague was treated at City Hospital for abrasions and contusions of the temple and abrasions of the back. The hospital authorities listed Hague as residing at 113 Harrison St., Newell.

Also at 4:30 p.m., the patrol investigated an accident on Route 30, a mile north of East Liverpool.

Thomas S. Robinson, 21, of Grant St., Newell, driving his 1965 sedan south on Route 30, lost control and spun around, ran off the right side of the road and struck an embankment. There was light damage to his car.

At 6 p. m., on Route 7, approximately a half - mile north of Middle Beaver Rd., James F. Miller, 60, of Weirton, operating a 1967 sedan northbound, lost control on the wet pavement spun around and went off the left side of the road.

At 8:30 Thursday morning, Harold P. Ferguson, 66, of Steubenville was driving north on Route 7, south of Route 517, when he lost control of his 1966 station wagon on the wet pavement, went off the left sde and struck an embankmet. Ferguson complained of injuries, but was not treated. He was cited by the patrol for speeding.

Drifting Auto Strikes Home

An auto drifted away from a parking place on Grant St. Thursday, coasted down grade and rammed a home in the 800 block of Dresden Ave., police reported.

The 1959 sedan owned by Ben W. Dilla of 301 Grant St. hit a house at 813 Dresden Ave. after knocking down a wooden fence and a cement block wall and tearing up a shrub, officers said. Two shingles were broken on the side of the house. The owner was identified tentatively as Dorothy Tarr.

Dilla told Patrolman Charles Coen that a friend, Charles Watson, asked to borrow his car. Dilla said he replied the car was out of gas, but Watson could use the auto if he put some fuel in the tank.

Watson tried unsuccessfully to push the car away from the curb in order to drift it downgrade to a service station. Unable to budge the car, he walked to a service station to obtain gasoline. After he left, the car of its own volition rolled away from the parking place, crossed Dresden Ave. and plowed into the house, officers said.

Police said the car had been parked in the same spot since Friday. Investigation after the mishap showed the gear shift was in neutral and the emergency brake was not engaged, officers said. The mishap was timed at noon.

Do Not Smoke In Bed!

ANN LANDERS

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: Recently you accepted a suggestion from a well-meaning reader who came up with a safe way to smoke in bed.

The woman said if a person trains himself to hold the cigarette between the middle and fourth fingers, the cigarette cannot drop out of his hand if he should fall asleep. "He'll be awakened when the cigaret burns down to his fingers," she added.

As chairman of the emergency rescue and first aid committee of the New York Firemen's Association, I hope you'll retract that statement and tell your readers there's no safe way to smoke in bed.

Bedsmokers run two risks. One is asphyiation, the other is fire. The so-called "safe" way might waken the smoker before he becomes roasted alive, but it would not prevent him from becoming asphyxiated by the smoldering of a wool blanket or a foam rubber mattress.

Please take the word of a fireman who's carried out too many corpses.—R.E.G.

-:-

Dear R.E.G.: It was dum of me to have printed that woman's letter and I hereby accept 10 lashes with the old wet noodle. The correct advice is as follows: Do NOT smoke in bed. The ashes on the floor might be your own.

Poor Risk

Dear Ann: Wilma and I went together for three years. I thought for sure we'd be married. When she told me she had another guy she liked better I was shocked and hurt. But I wished her luck, told her to keep my ring and to forget about the $600 she owed me.

Wilma and the guy took off for California and I was under the impression they were married, but I was wrong.

Six months later she came back to town — five months pregnant. Her boy friend had run out on her. She was broke and sick and hungry for a square meal.

I told Wilma I still loved her and asked her to marry me. We have been married two years and I never once mentioned the fact that the baby wasn't mine.

I thought we were getting along fine, until two months ago when Wilma asked me to send her to California to visit her folks. They never had seen the baby. I worked on the car for two days getting it ready for the 200-mile trip to the airport.

Last week I got a letter from her saying she and the baby were not coming back. She said she has a job out there but I have a hunch she has teamed up again with the guy who got her pregnant. What do you think? — ANONYMOUS.

-:-

Dear Anon: Your story is a heart breaker, but I think you'll be lucky in the long run if Wilma stays in California.

Type Cast

Dear Ann: My penmanship is absolutely terrible and I'm ashamed of it. I've tried my darnedest to improve but I'm a hopeless case.

A few weeks ago my father passed away and I had to acknowledge many bouquets and telegrams. I typed te thank-you notes on my personal stationery and signed my name in ink.

It came back to me that I was "a jerky dame who had no manners" because the notes should have been handwritten. I wish I could have done the notes by hand but no one would have been able to read them. Am I "a jerky dame"? — THE SCRAWLER.

-:-

Dear S: Better to send a typewritten note than a handwritten note that is illegible. As a person who has seen a great deal of illegible handwriting, I'm with you.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Vandalism Stirs Concern In Area Of Rt. 7 Work

Vandalism at properties purchased for the relocation of Route 7 through Wellsville is causing increasing concern to city, state and federal officials.

Thefts and vandalism have brought reports to Wellsville police, the Ohio Highway Patrol and have placed violators in jeopardy of federal prosecution. State highway officials point out that since there is 50 per cent federal participation in the Route 7 relocation, vandalism at properties purchased with part federal money may bring investigation by the proper federal bureau.

Wellsville police and the highway patrol are investigating thefts that increased recently and any resident noting suspicious actions around the houses are asked to report the matter.

Two Pilots Land Their Planes In Unusual Places

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two aircraft pilots found themselves in trouble Thursday night and landed in unusual places — one on a Great Lakes freighter and the other on the Ohio Turnpike.

The Coast Guard said a jet helicopter from Selfridge Air Force Base, Mich., landed aboard the freighter James H. Davidson 35 miles off Cleveland on Lake Erie after running into thunderstorms.

The 'copter was bound for Cleveland's Burke Lakefront Airport but wound up taking a boat trip to Buffalo.

Landing on the Ohio Turnpike near Amherst in Lorain County was William Borell of West Farmington. The highway patrol said Borell was en route from Findlay to the Cuyahoga County Airport east of Cleveland when he hit high tension wires and was forced to land.

Borell landed the light plane on the eastbound lane of the turnpike and taxied into a service station.

Ford Foundation Sets Fund In School Drive

CLEVELAND (AP)—A group of Cleveland executives said Thursday the Ford Foundation has promised $250,000 over the next five years to finance a campaign to get corporations to give more money to colleges and universities.

The group called the Corporate One Per Cent Program for Higher Education said the aim is to get companies to pledge one per cent of their net income, before taxes, to be given to a college of their choice.

George S. Dively, chairman of the program, said if all the corporations in the country gave one per cnt of their net profit the national figure would be $800 million.

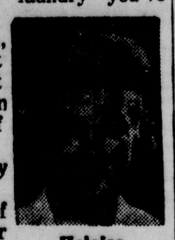
'Hard' Look At Laundry

DEAR DOLLIES: Has washday gotcha down?

Are you discouraged with the looks of the laundry you've turned out?



Heloise

Well then, listen to what our friends at the American Institute of Laundering have to say . . .

"The use of HARD water in washing not only increases the COST of washing, but make it practically impossible to remove dirt satisfactorily and to retain the original texture, softness and color of the fabric.

"When fabrics are washed in hard water, insoluble calcium and magnesium soaps are formed which adhere to the fabrics and eventually cause a stiffened and discolored condition accompanied by a rancid odor. Colored articles washed with hard water lose their brightness.

Also, "Under home washing conditions, when hard water is used, the soap consumption can be easily four or five hundred per cent of the amount used in the professional laundry for the same weight of clothes."

You see gals, hard water is not only bad for our clothes and linens, but increases the amount of soap we use — takes so much more to do the job.

So make sure the cause of your laundry problems is not the water itself. You'll not only save extra work and money, but it'll put a sparkle in your eyes when you see that brighter wash!

DEAR HELOISE: Our son will leave for college soon. I just finished stamping and addressing several envelopes for him — addressed to me. Enclosed in each envelope is a blank sheet of paper. I'm hoping this convenience will help him write more often.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: If you have dentures that hurt or just won't stay in place . . . try taking a bite of a prune or apricot and let it "soak" a bit in your mouth. Then put it under those plates! They stick.

Course, you might taste the fruit once in a while but it tastes good all day.

P.F.

DEAR HELOISE: I am bedridden at the moment and have to apply hot, wet compresses to my leg. Rather than have someone always running upstairs to keep me supplied with hot water, I'm making my own.

I'm using an electric coffee pot that we keep as an extra to use when we have company.

I took out all the insides, filled it with water and let it get steaming hot. Pour it in a basin, then dip a rolled up hand towel in the hot water, wring it out a little when it gets cool enough to handle and hold it on my leg.

I'm pretty self-sufficient but I do keep my daughter's rubber-tipped baton that I can "thump" on the floor for attention when it's needed from downstairs.

A. READER.

DEAR HELOISE: Did you know you can make sour cream go further if you add some buttermilk and a squirt of lemon? Real yummy.

DEAR HELOISE: I do alterations and have a number of women ask if I can mend covered belt buckles.

There is no way I know of doing this. But I do find that if I paint the back side of the buckle with clear nail polish when new, it holds the edges and I have less trouble with the cover coming off.

Chemists at a tire company report there's as much oil in a motorist's tires as in the crankcase of his automobile. Figures reveal that more than 1½ quarts of oil are used in the manufacture of a single 8.25-14 size passenger tire or 6½ quarts in a set of four tires, while most crankcases contain only four to five quarts of oil.

Heart Transplant Patient Described 'Satisfactory'

CLEVELAND (AP)—Officials at the Cleveland Clinic today described hte condition of heart transplant patient Dellett H. Lawson as "very good and satisfactory."

Lawson, 50, received his new heart Wednesday during a 2 hour operation at the Cleveland Clinic.

Twelve hours later he managed to sit up for a few seconds and whisper to his wife, Leona, that he felt "just fine."

"At last we have a future to look forward to," Mrs. Lawson, 47, said afterwards. "We have been waiting and praying for this moment for so long."

Lawson, a freight checker for an Akron truck firm before a heart attack last October confined him to bed, received he heart of Barbara Smith, 25, of Blytheville, Ark.

Mrs. Smith's kidneys were transplanted to Robert Clapper, 29, Minerva, and Charles Mundy 21, of Berkley, Mich. Clapper and Mundy were also reported in satisfactory condition.

Mrs. Lawson said a heart operation was her husbands only hope.

"We nearly lost him six times," she said. "It was only our faith and our prayers and his willpower that kept him alive."

Mrs. Smith died Wednesday from head injuries received when the trailer-truck she was riding in crashed near Cleveland.

Cuyahoga County Coroner Samuel R. Gerber said Thursday everything possible was done to keep Mrs. Smith alive and that she was medically and legally dead before the transplant operations were started.

A team of four surgeons and 10 assistants performed the world's 40th heart transplant. Heading the surgical team were Dr. Donald B. Effler, head of the clinic's cardiac unit, and Drs. Rene Favaloro and Lawrence Groves.

Mrs. Lawson said she and her husband had hidden the news of a possible heart transplant from their five children.

"We knew it would be a blow to them," she said. "We didn't want to worry them anymore then necessary. My husband and I discussed the operation for about five months before it finally took place."

Ohio Democratic Head Sees HHH Carrying State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Eugene P. O'Grady, state Democratic chairman, predicted Thursday that Ohio will go for Hubert H. Humphrey in the November presidential election. O'Grady made the prediction following a meeting with about 20 party leaders from throughout the state to work on plans for the state convention here Sept. 20-21.

Humphrey had been invited to address the convention. If he can't attend, the vice president's running mate, Sen. Edmund Muskie of Maine, or another high party official will be asked to speak.

O'Grady said a "very postive campaign" is being planned and a united effort is sharping up among Democrats to work for the election of Humphrey and other candidates.

He said Democrats who had supported the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and Sen. Eugene McCarthy for the presidential nomination attended Thursday's meeting.

The state convention will serve as an official kickoff for the fall campaign, O'Grady said.

Some Landing, Takeoff Delays

Air Travelers Getting Up And Away Easier Now

NEW YORK (AP) — Air travelers are getting up, up and away easier these days, although some slight delays in landings and takeoffs are still reported at major airports.

An Associated Press survey Thursday showed several reasons for the improvement — a seasonal decline in the number of flights, unusually good weather and fewer equipment breakdowns.

A Federal Aviation Administration spokesman at Kennedy Airport said air traffic conditions at New York's metropolitan area jetports were "a lot better" than they were during the crowded days of July.

It was in July that the Professional Air Traffic Controllers Organization—which claims 7,000 members—began a "follow the book" slowdown, strictly enforcing FAA safety rules which are sometimes bent in periods of peak congestion.

The organization is continuing its safety campaign. But other factors apparently have combined to ease crowds.

The FAA spokesman at Kennedy said that delays were limited to from 40 minutes to an hour, and then only during peak travel periods. He said that on Tuesday, for example, there were departure delays of 40 minutes and arrival delays of 35 minutes—nothing like the six and seven hour waits that plagued many passengers earlier this summer.

The FAA officials said the improvement was due to better weather, fewer breakdowns in air controller radar and communications equipment, fewer flights during the late summer season and diversions of some flights from Kennedy to LaGuardia or Newark airports.

At National Airport in Washington, the FAA said there had been no reportable delays—those of over 30 minutes—since the Labor Day weekend. A spokesman said this was because of unusually fine weather and the fact that equipment remained in good working order.

A spokesman at Chicago's O'Hare Airport said delays were only 15 to 30 minutes during peak periods, with no delays at other times. The spokesman said Labor Day traffic was on time because of a light schedule —only 1,400 flights compared to a daily average of 2,100 takeoffs and landings.

The reported improvement came only one day after the FAA proposed new restrictions which, if adopted, would set limits on the number of aircraft that may land within one hour at the airports serving New York, Washington and Chicago.

Other requirements as to speed, equipment and size of crew would keep most private planes and other small aircraft off the airports whenever they are experiencing any heavy flow of commercial airline traffic.

The FAA will hold a public hearing Sept. 15 on the issues—the first federal restrictions ever to be applied to ease congestion at major public airports. The proposed regulations probably will go into effect around Nov. 1.

Classes Start At Parochial In Wellsville

Approximately 101 pupils were enrolled when classes resumed Wednesday at the Immaculate Conception parochial school in Wellsville, according to Sister Julia, principal.

The enrollment is only two less than in 1967. Sessions begin at 8:45 and dismiss at 3 p. m.

The faculty follows: Sister Julia, first grade; Mrs. Joy Stout, second and third grades; Miss Theresa Soldano, fourth and fifth grades; Sister Dorothy Marie, fifth and sixth grades.

Sister Dorothy Marie and Sister Julia are from Youngstown and the other faculty members from Wellsville.

Vandals Damage Ambrose House

Senseless destruction by vandals was reported by police in a burglary of an Ambrose Ave. home discovered Thursday afternoon.

Officers said the home of Robert L. Appledorn of 938 Ambrose Ave. "was left a general shambles," although no loss was discovered. The home was entered sometime between 4:30 p.m. Aug. 30 and 2 p. m. yesterday. Entry was gained through a cellar door on the south side of the home.

The intruders consumed soft drinks and food from the refrigerator and tossed cookies onto the floor. Oil was poured on top of a freezer chest, words were scribbled on the walls of the bedrooms and a transistor radio was broken. Virtually every room of the house was ransacked, officers said.

Appeldorn told police youngsters have been loitering nightly in front of his home and ignored his requests to leave. Boards have been pulled loose from the bottom of the front porch and the sidewalk is littered with papers, police said.

Board To Create Another Precinct For Columbiana

The County Election Board said today it is taking steps to create an additional precinct in Columbiana village, which would boost to 170 the overall total of polling places in the county.

Establishment of the new precinct was made necessary because territory in Fairfield Township recently was annexed by the village.

The Election Board revised the boundary lines of Precincts C and G in the village and Northeast Precinct of Fairfield Township. It divided Precinct C to establish the new polling area, to be known as Precinct I. The action will raise to nine the number of precincts in the village.

As required by law, the Election Board will hold a public hearing on its proposed action. Persons opposed to the change may file objections. The hearing is slated Sept. 23 at 1 p.m. at the board's office. If approved, the change will become effective with the Nov. 5 general election.

Tigers, Beavers, Leopards, Bears Play At Home Tonight

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

One of the wildest proposals in sports recently is the formation of a Global Baseball League.

The loop would have three teams in the U.S. located in Jersey City, Dallas and Louisville; a team in Mexico City and four teams in Japan. The season would start June 10 and end on Labor Day. There would be a 72-game season, with half the games in Japan. Each team would play only two or three games a week.

The really wild thing about the proposed league is the ticket prices, which would be $5. Walter Dilbeck, the moving force behind the league, admits the quality of play would be between AA and AAA and outside of organized baseball, but thinks fans would pay to see foreign players.

The top major league prices now are less than $4, with general admission to most parks $1.50 and bleacher seats less. This is one of the good points of baseball that the game does not stress too much, though maybe it will now that an advertising agency has been hired full time to burnish the game's image. For a pro football game ,on the other hand, the cheapest seat is $4, and this includes exhibitions, in which the regulars sometimes make only token appearances. Pro hockey and basketball, while not as expensive as football, are still more expensive than baseball.

So if the Global League ever takes shape, Dilbeck and his partners may find that sports fans will stick to the established, less expensive, major leagues.

BERNIE ALLEN leads all major league regular secondbasemen in fielding, with a .992 mark. Allen made only three errors in his first 77 games. The East Liverpool product's batting average has dropped to .226, however.

Matty Alou of the Pirates, in addition to shooting for another batting title, is also in line for a Golden Glove award. Only John Callison of the Phillies, who has played errorless ball is fielding better than Alou, who had one error in 107 games.

THE STEELERS reportedly have 16 unsigned players on the team. In pro football an unsigned player can play through the season until the following May 1, at which time he has played out his option.

CYLDE KING, former Pirate pitching coach, is rumorer to be in line to manage the San Francisco Giants next year. Herman Franks has said many times he will step down as manager after this season, but he might give it another try if owner Horace Stoneman asks him.

FRAN BARNING, the sports information director at C. W. Post College on Long Island, held up his wedding pending the outcome of a baseball game. Both he and his bride are ardent Met fans.

Which brings to mind the picture of a golfer lining up a putt when a young lady in a wedding dress suddenly appears on the green. "I told you", snarled the golfer, "PROVIDED it rained."

7 New Coaches Debut In Area

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

Aside from the Cleveland West at East Liverpool game tonight, the 1968 football season kicks off in the immediate area with four other games.

There are 10 games in all over the weekend in the area, eight tonight and two tomorrow night.

A great deal of interest will be centered on Wellsville, where Howard Gilger leads the Tigers back to the football wars after the school did not play the sport last season. Gilger, a former assistant at Stanton and head coach at Marysville last season, had a good turnout, but of course is lacking in experience.

East Palestne, the Tigers' foe tonight, also lacks experience, especially in the line. Bill Offenbacher has nine returning lettermen, five of tem running backs. The Bulldogs went 6-4 last year.

Beaver Local, under new coach Dick Bryan, may field a young team against Columbiana. Two probable starting running backs for the Beavers, Dave Doak and Ken Campbell, will miss the game. Doak has a bruised arch, for which the only cure is rest, and Campbell has an ankle injury. Bruce Diddle at quarter, Lew Brown at full and Dan Myers and Jim Bowersock at halves is the probable starting backfield for the Beavers.

Sophomore Rick Palmer will probably start at tight end, with Fred Brown at split end. Tom Allen Wolfe and Bob Copestick are the tackles, Craig Eells and John Lyons the guards and center is between John Smith and Jim Jolly.

BRYAN FEARS the speed of Columbiana's Gary Schmidt, top sprinter in the county. The Clippers, with quarterback Gary Gregg, expect to pass a lot. New coach George Morris inherits only four lettermen from last year's 8-2 team that beat Beaver Local 14-0. The Beavers finished 4-6.

Another new head coach, Midland's Ivan Dye, opens with Western Beaver in Midland Stadium. Dye reports that the Leopards, 3-5-2 a year ago, are ready, and out to better their 1967 mark despite only nine returning lettermen. Mike Hornick, the new coach at Western Beaver, reports injuries to three running backs, and the Golden Beavers, 4-5 a year ago, don't have much depth to fill the holes. Midland won 25-0 last year.

Oak Glen, a 20-7 loser to Weirton Madonna a week ago, opens at home at Newell with Fairmont East. Fairmont was whipped 39-7 by Monongah last week. A win for the Golden Bears would be the first under new coach Alan Hoover. Oak Glen was 3-6-1 in 1967.

A much improved Southern Local team, with Jerry Winstead in his first full season at the helm, travels to Lisbon to meet the perennially tough Blue Devils, coached by veteran Bud Bucher. Southern was 3-7 and Lisbon 9-1 in 1967, and Lisbon topped the Indians 26-7, but Southern has a veteran team and Lisbon lost heavily via graduation. Starting Blue Deviel halfback Gary Simpson was injured in a scrimmage and will be out 3-4 weeks.

LEETONIA COACH Dick Hartzell is booming quarterback Ed Casey for all - state honors, but the Bears have four men injured for their home opener against Ralph Pardee's United Local team. Fullback Angelo Nicotera has a pulled hamstring muscle and center Jerry Less a knee injury, and they will definitely miss the contest. On the doubhful side are guard Larry Morrow, with a concussion, and tackle Galen Zimmerman, with a knee injury. Leetonia was 6-4 last year and squeezed by United 19-16. The Golden Eagles were 2-8, but have a fair number of veterans and look to improve.

Stanton, 6-3 a year ago, beat Hopedale, which finished 6-3-1. The Red Raiders will have their work cut out for them as they travel to the lair of the Comets tonight, however,. as coach Rod Ware has 23 lettermen returning. Hopedale is led by all-eastern Ohio tackle Joe Worklan, 190, and the line is the team's strong point. Stanton's Ken Woods, on the other hand, has veteran backs, but the line is inexperienced.

Saturday night, South Side Beaver travels to Donora, a WPIAL Class A team. The Rams went 4-5 under Don Charlton last season, but lost heavily from that squad.

Also Saturday, Crestview hosts Mineral Ridge, which ran over the Rebels 40-6 last season. The Rebels ended 6-3, but will be underdogs in their opener under new coach Ernest Grekis.

Potter Harriers Open Here Thursday

"We won't do too well in the large invitational meets, but we should do well in the dual and tri meets," says coach Joe Smith of the 1968 East Liverpool cross-country team.

"We have better balance than last year", he explained, "though we lost two top runners in Ted Hoffman and Geoff Lowe. We have a good sophomore group."

John Keil and George Manning are the only returning lettermen from a team that went 2-2 in dual meets last season,, and they will serve as co-captains. Others on the team are Dan Skidmore, Don Bodinar, Dave Rogers, Dave Poole, Rich Averell, Mike Giambrone, Chris Resing, Bob Farnsworth, Doug Millward. Steve Crowder and Gilbert Richards.

The Potters run their home meets at the East Liverpool Country Club over a 2½ mile course. There was no cross - country at East Liverpool in 1966, so last year's team had very few meets. This year Smith has a full schedule.

Crampton Fires 65, Takes Hartford Lead

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP) — "It used to take three good rounds and one terrific round to win one of these golf tournaments. Now it takes four super rounds," Bruce Crampton said Thursday after he took the first-round lead in the $100,000 Greater Hartford Open.

Taking Australian Crampton at his word, he would be the only one qualified to take home the $20,000 first prize on Sunday. He had the only super round Thursday, a six-under-par 65 over the 6,568-yard Wethersfield Country Club.

Five other players were two shots behind Crampton at four-under-par 67, including 23-year-old rookie Ron Cerrudo and veterans Al Balding, Billy Maxwell, Ken Still and Mason Rudolph.

Crampton's putting touch was golden for four consecutive holes as he scored birdies on putts of 10, 15, 8 and 12 feet on the fourth through seventh holes. "It sure was fun," Crampton said.

Billy Casper was in an eight-man tie at 68 after the first round. Casper, leading money winner in 1968 with $151,329 so far, missed a chance to move closer to the lead when he missed putts of three feet and five feet on the first two holes, and missed another from four feet on the 18th green.

Amateur Tom Okker Outlasts Gonzales

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Texas millionaire Lamar Hunt is around the U.S. Open Tennis Championships with his check book—and every day the price goes up for Tom Okker Arthur Ashe and Clark Graebner.

Okker, the 24-year-old Dutch youngster who has become a nemesis of the pros, probably will sign a contract after the Pacific Southwest Open in Los Angeles, starting Friday. He has been offered $45,000 a year guarantee.

Ashe and Graebner might be tempted to join the money ranks after they've won the Davis Cup back for the United States at Adelaide, Australia, in late December.

Meanwhile, the Amateurs are sticking right in there with the pros in this first U.S. Open, and everybody is delighted—except the pros.

Pancho Gonzales, for example, the 40-year-old grandpa who gave a magnificent show before bowing to young Okker in a dramatic quarter-final match Thursday 14-16, 6-3, 10-8, 6-3, doesn't think it's fair that Okker —a registered player—can bid for the $14,000 first prize and other money prizes just by saying so.

"He ought to declare himself," said Pancho. "He shouldn't accept expenses in amateur tournaments and prize money in the opens." But it's the new rules.

Okker and Ashe are the only players so far solidly fixed on semifinal brackets. Third-seeded Ken Rosewall of Australia, the tournament favorite, still had a quarter-final duel with Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., scheduled today, and Graebner was to complete a held-over match with Australian pro John Newcombe.

In the women's division, top-seeded Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., was to play Maria Bueno, the four-time U.S. champion from Brazil, in the semi-finals. The survivor on Saturday plays Britain's Virginia Wade, who upset second-seeded Ann Haydon Jones, also of Britaian, 7-5, 6-1.

Bill Eadie Head Coach At East Jr.

Bill Eadie, a 1968 graduate of West Virginia U., will be the head football coach at East Junior this season.

The Panthers open Sept. 19 by hosting Crestview.

Eadie was track captain at WVU. He graduated from Brownsville (Pa.) High where he starred in football and track. He will be assisted by a yet-to-be-named coach.

The schedule:

Sept. 19—Crestview
Sept. 26—at Weirton
Oct. 3—Westgate
Oct. 10—Alliance
Oct. 17—Columbiana
Oct. 24—Alliance All-Stars
Nov. 7—Canton McKinley

Cards' Magic Number 7

Chisox Edge Senators; McLain After 28th Win

By The Associated Press

Detroit and St. Louis resume their pennant chases tonight with the Tigers home against the Minnesota Twins and the Cardinals hosting the San Francisco Giants for a twi-night doubleheader.

The Tigers, enjoying an eight game bulge, in the American League, have 21 games to play —the same number as pursuing Baltimore. That means the magic number for Detroit to clinch its first pennant since 1945 is 14. Any combination of 14 Tiger victories and-or Oriole losses will wrap it up for Detroit.

The National League Cardinals are 13½ games in front of second place San Francisco and have the same record as the Tigers—89-52.

St. Louis, with 21 games remaining, has a magic number of seven to clinch its second consecutive flag.

In the only game played in the majors Thursday, the Chicago White Sox nipped Washington 2-1.

Gerry McNertney's two-run single in the seventh inning wiped out a 1-0 Washington lead and gave rookie Jerry Nyman his second straight victory. Nyman allowed three hits in seven innings with Hoyt Wilhelm and Gary Peters finishing up.

The Tigers send Denny McLain after his 28th victory tonight against the Twins, who will counter with Jim Katt, 12-10.

In tonight's other American League games, Washington plays at New York with Jim Hannan, 9-3, going for the Senators against Mel Stottlemyre, 18-11. Cleveland is at Oakland with Stan Williams, 11-9, opposing John "Blue Moon" Odom, 13-9.

Chicago sends Joe Horlen, 10-12, aginst the Orioles' Jim Hardin, 17-10, at Baltimore. Jim Lonborg, 5-5, goes for Boston against California's Dennis Bennett, 0-3, or Andy Messersmith, 1-0.

In the National League, the Cardinals have Bob Gibson, 20-9, and Steve Carlton, 12-9, ready for San Francisco. Juan Marichal, 24-7, and Bob Bolin, 7-4, work for the Giants. In another twi-night doubleheader, Cincinnati hosts Los Angeles with Tony Cloninger, 5-6 and Gerry Arrigo, 11-7, facing Bill Singer, 10-15, and Joe Moeller, 0-0.

One of the wildest proposals in sports recently is the formation of a Global Baseball League.

The loop would have three teams in the U.S. located in Jersey City, Dallas and Louisville; a team in Mexico City and four teams in Japan. The season would start June 10 and end on Labor Day. There would be a 72-game season, with half the games in Japan. Each team would play only two or three games a week.

The really wild thing about the proposed league is the ticket prices, which would be $5. Walter Dilbeck, the moving force behind the league, admits the quality of play would be between AA and AAA and outside of organized baseball, but thinks fans would pay to see foreign players.

The top major league prices now are less than $4, with general admission to most parks $1.50 and bleacher seats less. This is one of the good points of baseball that the game does not stress too much, though maybe it will now that an advertising agency has been hired full time to burnish the game's image. Cards' Magic Number 7

Chisox Edge Senators; McLain After 28th Win

By The Associated Press

Detroit and St. Louis resume their pennant chases tonight with the Tigers home against the Minnesota Twins and the Cardinals hosting the San Francisco Giants for a twi-night doubleheader.

The Tigers, enjoying an eight game bulge, in the American League, have 21 games to play —the same number as pursuing Baltimore. That means the magic number for Detroit to clinch its first pennant since 1945 is 14. Any combination of 14 Tiger victories and-or Oriole losses will wrap it up for Detroit.

The National League Cardinals are 13½ games in front of second place San Francisco and have the same record as the Tigers—89-52.

St. Louis, with 21 games remaining, has a magic number of seven to clinch its second consecutive flag.

In the only game played in the majors Thursday, the Chicago White Sox nipped Washington 2-1.

Gerry McNertney's two-run single in the seventh inning wiped out a 1-0 Washington lead and gave rookie Jerry Nyman his second straight victory. Nyman allowed three hits in seven innings with Hoyt Wilhelm and Gary Peters finishing up.

The Tigers send Denny McLain after his 28th victory tonight against the Twins, who will counter with Jim Katt, 12-10.

In tonight's other American League games, Washington plays at New York with Jim Hannan, 9-3, going for the Senators against Mel Stottlemyre, 18-11. Cleveland is at Oakland with Stan Williams, 11-9, opposing John "Blue Moon" Odom, 13-9.

Chicago sends Joe Horlen, 10-12, aginst the Orioles' Jim Hardin, 17-10, at Baltimore. Jim Lonborg, 5-5, goes for Boston against California's Dennis Bennett, 0-3, or Andy Messersmith, 1-0.

In the National League, the Cardinals have Bob Gibson, 20-9, and Steve Carlton, 12-9, ready for San Francisco. Juan Marichal, 24-7, and Bob Bolin, 7-4, work for the Giants. In another twi-night doubleheader, Cincinnati hosts Los Angeles with Tony Cloninger, 5-6 and Gerry Arrigo, 11-7, facing Bill Singer, 10-15, and Joe Moeller, 0-0.

Packers, Rams Picked In NFL West Conference

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Phil Bengtson rated a bonus after masterminding Green Bay's dynamic defense for nine National Football League seasons.

So Vince Lombardi gave him the Packers' high-powered offense too.

Coach Bengtson plans to express his gratitude this winter by presenting ex-Coach Lombardi with an unprecedented fourth straight NFL championship. General Manager Lombardi will settle for nothing less.

Jim Dooley, Chicago's defensive genius for the past two seasons and successor to Papa Bear George Halas as head coach this year, has other ideas. But the brawny Bears likely will have to settle for the runner-up spot in the Central Division.

The Los Angeles Rams and Baltimore Colts, who won every game they had to last year—except one, figure to slug it out for the Coastal Division crown again, with the Rams rated a slim choice to repeat.

Here's how the Western Conference races could wind up:

Central

1. Green Bay
2. Chicago
3. Detroit
4. Minnesota

Coastal

1. Los Angeles
2. Baltimore
3. San Francisco
4. Atlanta

Green Bay's Central Division foes won't miss Lombardi, who has given up his dual role of general manager-coach to concentrate on front office business. Before the season ends, they'll probably wish the boss had offered a desk job to quarterback Bart Starr.

The peerless play-caller, who has led the Packers to five league titles and two Super Bowl triumphs during the nine-year Lombardi era, could be headed for a peak season. He missed all or part of six games in 1967 with injuries, but took charge in the big money playoffs against Los Angeles, Dallas and Oakland.

Like the Bears, Detroit will be formidable on defense. The Lions unveiled two rookie standouts—running back Mel Farr and defensive back Lem Barney—in 1967 and are counting on ex-Los Angeles quarterback Bill Munson to make the attack go. With Alex Karras up front, the Lions' defense won't be pushed around by anyone.

Minnesota hopes to break its two-year lease on the Central cellar behind quarterback Gary Cuozzo, picked up from New Orleans, and an improving young defensive unit. But there are too many superior clubs in their path.

The Rams scored more points and yielded less than any NFL team last year on the way to an 11-1-2 finish. The emergence of Roman Gabriel as a winning quarterback and the ferocity of the Fearsome Foursome—Deacon Jones, Lamar Lundy, Merlin Olsen and Roger Brown—carried them past everyone but Green Bay, a 20-7 victory in the Western title game.

The Colts, triggered by the incomparable Johnny Unitas, were unbeatable for 13 games last year, then fell to the Rams in their Coastal finale at Los Angeles. If Timmy Brown, obtained in a deal with Philadelphia, runs to daylight and last year's casualties, including big Bubba Smith, bounce back, there could be no stopping the 1968 herd.

San Francisco, caught in the middle of the Baltimore-Los Angeles battle royal last year, might make the upcoming race a three-way affair if new Coach Dick Nolan finds the depth he's been looking for in the 49ers' offensive and defensive lines.

Atlanta won three games in 1966, its first year in the NFL. But the Falcons dipped to 1-12-1 last season, prompting Coach Norb Hecker to launch a rebuilding program. He'll go with his youngsters this year, hoping to scratch out a couple of upsets but looking ahead to 1969.

MAUCH MANAGER. Gene Mauch, fired as manager of the Philadelphia Phillies earlier this season, was named manager of the new National League Montreal team yesterday. The team was officially named Expos. (UPI Telephoto)

Bengals Start Season At San Diego Tonight

By MIKE BRYSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cincinnati will find out if a couple of preseason surprises means anything in the first play-for-keeps match, while the prestige of the venerable National Football League is at stake in a couple of games that don't mean anything this weekend.

In a quirk of scheduling, the expansion Bengals open the American League campaign at San Diego Friday night before most of the other pro teams wrapup exhibition activity.

The Bengals, rated two touchdown underdogs in the game to be nationally televised by the National Broadcasting Co. at 8:30 p.m., pulled off a couple of upsets in their last two exhibitions—beating Pittsburgh and the New York Jets.

Two other AFL openers also are on tap during the weekend. Boston is at Buffalo Sunday, while two top threats—Kansas City's Western Division runners-up and Houston's defending Eastern titlists—meet at Houston Monday night, both games will be televised nationally by NBC.

In addition, there are 10 exhibitions Friday night and Saturday—including two interleague tests. And, the NFL will have to win both to accomplish a little face saving.

Because of Joe Namath's injured knee, Detroit, NFL, is favored to stop the New York Jets, AFL, in the first game of a doubleheader at Cleveland Saturday night. But a showdown the same evening between the Atlanta Falcons, NLF, at Miami, AFL, is rated a toss-up.

Three NFL exhibitions are scheduled Friday night: Minnesota vs. New Orleans at Shreveport, La., St. Louis at Chicago and San Francisco at Los Angeles.

Green Bay's champions collide with the Browns in the second game of the doubleheader at Cleveland Saturday night, while New York plays Philadelphia in the afternoon at Princeton, N.J.; Baltimore is at Dallas, and Pittsburgh plays Washington at Norfolk, Va.

Denver meets Oakland at Portland, Ore., in an AFL exhibiton Saturday night.

The NFL swings into regular season play Saturday, Sept. 14, with Atlanta at Minnesota.

Interlocking Games Upped In Hockey

MONTREAL (AP) — Variety is the keynote of the National Hockey League's 1968-69 regular-season schedule, released today.

The record 456-game schedule, which gets under way with three games Oct. 11, includes 216 interlocking contests between East and West Division teams.

This represents six games more than the entire NHL schedule for each of the 18 seasons prior to the 1967-68 expanded 12-team league when 444 games were played, including 144 interlocking encounters.

This season, the six teams in each division play teams from their own group a total of eight times, four at home and four away. They play the six teams in the other division six times, including three at home.

Last season's ratio was 10 to four.

As was the case last season, the 24-week schedule runs through 25 weekends, ending with 10 of the 12 teams playing Sunday, March 30.

The opening-night games are Detroit at Boston, St. Louis at Chicago and Minnesota at Oakland. Saturday, Oct. 12, has the Canadiens visiting Pittsburgh and Los Angeles at St. Louis.

The other three teams, Philadelphia, New York and Toronto, all open their schedules on the road, Oct. 13 with Toronto at Detroit, New York at Chicago and Philadelphia at Boston.

Home openers for the Rangers and Maple Leafs are Oct. 16 with Pittsburgh in Toronto and Philadelphia at New York.

The following night, Minnesota begins its home season against Montreal while Boston opens the Kings' home schedule at Los Angeles. Also that night, Pittsburgh visits Philadelphia in the Flyers' first home game.

The Canadiens are the last team to open at home because of renovations to the Forum. They host Detroit Nov. 2 after playing their first eight games on the road.

There are no interlocking games scheduled for the final 30 contests of the season.

The NHL also announced that the 22nd annual All-Star Game will be played in Montreal, Tuesday, Jan. 21. This season, a team of All-Stars from the East Division will play a team of All-Stars from the West Division, a change from the format of other years when the All-Stars played the defending Stanley Cup champions.

Big League Bowling Starts Monday

The Big League Bowling League will start Monday at Head Pin Lanes with six teams bowling at 7 p.m. and Eason's and Black Label bowling at 9 p.m.

Art Redden Boxing Way To Olympics

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Light heavyweight Arthur Redden just missed making the U.S. Olympic boxing team four years ago and he's determined to do it this year.

The 30-year-old Marine from Wilmington, Del., took a giant step in that direction Thursday night in defeating Robert "Sweet Pete" Peterson, Air Force titlist from Sacramento, Calif., in semifinal action of the Olympic boxing trials.

Redden, who played football at Arkansas A&M, won his division title in the 1964 Olympic trials, but was dropped from the team in training camp when officials decided his low-bending style of boxing would not pass the more strict international boxing rules.

"I had to change my style completely," Redden said in describing how he has trained since then to fulfill his ambition of fighting in the Olympic Games. "I've been working for this one thing. Whether I make it or not I'll retire."

Twenty-two amateur boxers advanced to tonight's finals. Winners in 11 weight divisions will qualify for the Olympic matches next month in Mexico City.

In the biggest crowd pleaser of the evening Thursday, heavyweight George Foreman, 222-pound National AAU champ from Pleasanton, Calif., beat Otis Evans Jr., Army titlist from Atlanta.

Foreman, who appeared to be trailing slightly in points in the three-round slugfest, floored Evans with a right uppercut with less than 15 seconds remaining in the final round.

Foreman will face in the finals Albert Wilson, Golden Gloves champion from McKeesport, Pa., who Thursday night outpointed crowd-favored James "Sugarbear" Williams, 247-pound left-handed Marine from Omaha, Neb., who won the interservice title.

In the only technical knockout of the night, lightweight Michael Raylor, Western Olympics Trials winner from Hamilton Air Force Base, Calif., beat Morris Harris of Youngstown, Ohio, the Navy champion, in 1:17 of the third round.

James Ross, interservice light middleweight titlist from Canton, Ohio, won a decision over Richard Royal of New York, the 1967 Pan American champion and current Golden Gloves titist.

As of Jan. 1, 1968, there were 10.6 million automobiles registered in Great Britain.

PGA Compromises, Players Not Happy

HOUSTON (AP) — The Professional Golf Association has indicated the PGA would agree to a control board that would include equal representation for the sponsor, player and the PGA.

Max Elbin, PGA president, appeared before major sponsors of the PGA's $5.6 million tour Thursday. The sponsors were meeting to discuss a dispute between the PGA and the touring professionals. Further meetings were scheduled today.

Most of the touring pros left the PGA Aug. 13 in a dispute over control of the tour. They announced Aug. 19 the formation of a new organization called the American Professional Golfers.

Elbin said if the sponsors group united behind the PGA that the association is ready to formulate the 1969 tour schedule immediately. He also predicted that a united position between the two groups would persuade a majority of the current tournament players to remain under the PGA banner.

Elbin urged the group to share the responsibility for tournament golf with the PGA "and effect a lasting solution to the problems of the last three years."

"Tournament golf is at the crossroads," he told the sponsors. "You have two avenues open to you. Tournament golf can be conducted by the players who want full and complete authority over all activities. Or the game can go forward as a joint enterprise of the sponsors, players and the PGA."

None of the players involved in the dispute attend the meetings.

However, Sam Games, New York attorney, atending the meetings as a representative of new players association, said the new group would consult with sponsors on the operation of the tour but would have no representation on the board of directors.

Games said 161 tournament players had signed with the new group.

He said "the PGA doesn't own the tour" and that it belongs to the public, the sponsors and the players, mostly the players.

Nicklaus, Palmer Miss Golf Series

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The man who has dominated the World Series of Golf will be missing this weekend when the winners of the world's four prestige golf tournaments compete here for gold and glory.

PGA champion Julius Boros, Masters' king Bob Goalby, British Open titlist Gary Player and U.S. Open champ Lee Trevino will shoot for the $50,000 first prize in the 36-hole event Saturday and Sunday.

Setting for the seventh annual World Series is the tough 7,180-yard, par-70 Firestone Country Club course, scene of the six previous events.

Jack Nicklaus, perhaps the top-rated golf professional, failed to qualify for only the second time in the seven-year history of the series.

All-time leading money-winner Arnold Palmer is here, but not a a contestant. He will be announcing for the ABC team that will televise the event.

Penguins Sign Price, Burns

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Two veterans have signed their contracts with the Pittsburgh Penguins for the 1968-69 National Hockey League season.

The Penguins said Thursday Noel Price, a defenseman who will start his 13th pro season, and Charlie Burns, a center acquired in the offseason from Oakland, had come to terms.

Price led the Penguin defense last year scoring 6 goals and 27 assists for 33 points.

Burns is one of the few American-born players in the league. He scored 9 goals and assisted on 26 for 35 points in 1967-68.

The Penguins open training camp Sept. 13 in Brantford, Ontario.

Earl Diddle, East Liverpool's all - east basketball player last season, will attend Lindsay Wilson Junior College in Columbia, Ky. this fall.

Diddle had previously announced that he would attend Ashland College, on a basketball scholarship, but Ashland coach Bill Musselman felt that Diddle would have an easier time academically if he spent a year in junior college and then went to Ashland as a freshman, and arranged for Diddle to attend Lindsay Wilson and play basketball there.

Bruce Christian, another standout basketball player at East Liverpool last year, has switched from a football to a basketball scholarship at Eastern Michigan U. in Yipsilanti, Mich. Christian was an all-state defensive end in football.

Elks Dinner Set For 6:30 Saturday

The dinner at Elks Lodge 278 honoring the East Liverpool Colt League all-stars will begin at 6:30 Saturday, not 7:30 as has been reported.

Packers, Rams Picked In NFL West Conference

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Phil Bengtson rated a bonus after masterminding Green Bay's dynamic defense for nine National Football League seasons.

So Vince Lombardi gave him the Packers' high-powered offense too.

Coach Bengtson plans to express his gratitude this winter by presenting ex-Coach Lombardi with an unprecedented fourth straight NFL championship. General Manager Lombardi will settle for nothing less.

Jim Dooley, Chicago's defensive genius for the past two seasons and successor to Papa Bear George Halas as head coach this year, has other ideas. But the brawny Bears likely will have to settle for the runner-up spot in the Central Division.

The Los Angeles Rams and Baltimore Colts, who won every game they had to last year—except one, figure to slug it out for the Coastal Division crown again, with the Rams rated a slim choice to repeat.

Here's how the Western Conference races could wind up:

Central

1. Green Bay
2. Chicago
3. Detroit
4. Minnesota

Coastal

1. Los Angeles
2. Baltimore
3. San Francisco
4. Atlanta

Green Bay's Central Division foes won't miss Lombardi, who has given up his dual role of general manager-coach to concentrate on front office business. Before the season ends, they'll probably wish the boss had offered a desk job to quarterback Bart Starr.

The peerless play-caller, who has led the Packers to five league titles and two Super Bowl triumphs during the nine-year Lombardi era, could be headed for a peak season. He missed all or part of six games in 1967 with injuries, but took charge in the big money playoffs against Los Angeles, Dallas and Oakland.

Like the Bears, Detroit will be formidable on defense. The Lions unveiled two rookie standouts—running back Mel Farr and defensive back Lem Barney—in 1967 and are counting on ex-Los Angeles quarterback Bill Munson to make the attack go. With Alex Karras up front, the Lions' defense won't be pushed around by anyone.

Minnesota hopes to break its two-year lease on the Central cellar behind quarterback Gary Cuozzo, picked up from New Orleans, and an improving young defensive unit. But there are too many superior clubs in their path.

The Rams scored more points and yielded less than any NFL team last year on the way to an 11-1-2 finish. The emergence of Roman Gabriel as a winning quarterback and the ferocity of the Fearsome Foursome—Deacon Jones, Lamar Lundy, Merlin Olsen and Roger Brown—carried them past everyone but Green Bay, a 20-7 victory in the Western title game.

The Colts, triggered by the incomparable Johnny Unitas, were unbeatable for 13 games last year, then fell to the Rams in their Coastal finale at Los Angels. If Timmy Brown, obtained in a deal with Philadelphia, runs to daylight and last year's casualties, including big Bubba Smith, bounce back, there could be no stopping the 1968 herd.

San Francisco, caught in the middle of the Baltimore-Los Angeles battle royal last year, might make the upcoming race a three-way affair if new Coach Dick Nolan finds the depth he's been looking for in the 49ers' offensive and defensive lines.

Atlanta won three games in 1966, its first year in the NFL. But the Falcons dipped to 1-12-1 last season, prompting Coach Norb Hecker to launch a rebuilding program. He'll go with his youngsters this year, hoping to scratch out a couple of upsets but looking ahead to 1969.

Bengals Start Season At San Diego Tonight

By MIKE BRYSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cincinnati will find out if a couple of preseason surprises means anything in the first play-for-keeps match, while the prestige of the venerable National Football League is at stake in a couple of games that don't mean anything this weekend.

In a quirk of scheduling, the expansion Bengals open the American League campaign at San Diego Friday night before most of the other pro teams wrapup exhibition activity.

The Bengals, rated two touchdown underdogs in the game to be nationally televised by the National Broadcasting Co. at 8:30 p.m., pulled off a couple of upsets in their last two exhibitions—beating Pittsburgh and the New York Jets.

Two other AFL openers also are on tap during the weekend. Boston is at Buffalo Sunday, while two top threats—Kansas City's Western Division runners-up and Houston's defending Eastern titlists—meet at Houston Monday night, both games will be televised nationally by NBC.

In addition, there are 10 exhibitions Friday night and Saturday—including two interleague tests. And, the NFL will have to win both to accomplish a little face saving.

Because of Joe Namath's injured knee, Detroit, NFL, is favored to stop the New York Jets, AFL, in the first game of a doubleheader at Cleveland Saturday night. But a showdown the same evening between the Atlanta Falcons, NLF, at Miami, AFL, is rated a toss-up.

Three NFL exhibitions are scheduled Friday night: Minnesota vs. New Orleans at Shreveport, La., St. Louis at Chicago and San Francisco at Los Angeles.

Green Bay's champions collide with the Browns in the second game of the doubleheader at Cleveland Saturday night, while New York plays Philadelphia in the afternoon at Princeton, N.J.; Baltimore is at Dallas, and Pittsburgh plays Washington at Norfolk, Va.

Denver meets Oakland at Portland, Ore., in an AFL exhibiton Saturday night.

The NFL swings into regular season play Saturday, Sept. 14, with Atlanta at Minnesota.

Interlocking Games Upped In Hockey

MONTREAL (AP) — Variety is the keynote of the National Hockey League's 1968-69 regular-season schedule, released today.

The record 456-game schedule, which gets under way with three games Oct. 11, includes 216 interlocking contests between East and West Division teams.

This represents six games more than the entire NHL schedule for each of the 18 seasons prior to the 1967-68 expanded 12-team league when 444 games were played, including 144 interlocking encounters.

This season, the six teams in each division play teams from their own group a total of eight times, four at home and four away. They play the six teams in the other division six times, including three at home.

Last season's ratio was 10 to four.

As was the case last season, the 24-week schedule runs through 25 weekends, ending with 10 of the 12 teams playing Sunday, March 30.

The opening-night games are Detroit at Boston, St. Louis at Chicago and Minnesota at Oakland. Saturday, Oct. 12, has the Canadiens visiting Pittsburgh and Los Angeles at St. Louis.

The other three teams, Philadelphia, New York and Toronto, all open their schedules on the road, Oct. 13 with Toronto at Detroit, New York at Chicago and Philadelphia at Boston.

Home openers for the Rangers and Maple Leafs are Oct. 16 with Pittsburgh in Toronto and Philadelphia at New York.

The following night, Minnesota begins its home season against Montreal while Boston opens the Kings' home schedule at Los Angeles. Also that night, Pittsburgh visits Philadelphia in the Flyers' first home game.

The Canadiens are the last team to open at home because of renovations to the Forum. They host Detroit Nov. 2 after playing their first eight games on the road.

There are no interlocking games scheduled for the final 30 contests of the season.

The NHL also announced that the 22nd annual All-Star Game will be played in Montreal, Tuesday, Jan. 21. This season, a team of All-Stars from the East Division will play a team of All-Stars from the West Division, a change from the format of other years when the All-Stars played the defending Stanley Cup champions.

Big League Bowling Starts Monday

The Big League Bowling League will start Monday at Head Pin Lanes with six teams bowling at 7 p.m. and Eason's and Black Label bowling at 9 p.m.

Art Redden Boxing Way To Olympics

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Light heavyweight Arthur Redden just missed making the U.S. Olympic boxing team four years ago and he's determined to do it this year.

The 30-year-old Marine from Wilmington, Del., took a giant step in that direction Thursday night in defeating Robert "Sweet Pete" Peterson, Air Force titlist from Sacramento, Calif., in semifinal action of the Olympic boxing trials.

Redden, who played football at Arkansas A&M, won his division title in the 1964 Olympic trials, but was dropped from the team in training camp when officials decided his low-bending style of boxing would not pass the more strict international boxing rules.

"I had to change my style completely," Redden said in describing how he has trained since then to fulfill his ambition of fighting in the Olympic Games. "I've been working for this one thing. Whether I make it or not I'll retire."

Twenty-two amateur boxers advanced to tonight's finals. Winners in 11 weight divisions will qualify for the Olympic matches next month in Mexico City.

In the biggest crowd pleaser of the evening Thursday, heavyweight George Foreman, 222-pound National AAU champ from Pleasanton, Calif., beat Otis Evans Jr., Army titlist from Atlanta.

Foreman, who appeared to be trailing slightly in points in the three-round slugfest, floored Evans with a right uppercut with less than 15 seconds remaining in the final round.

Foreman will face in the finals Albert Wilson, Golden Gloves champion from McKeesport, Pa., who Thursday night outpointed crowd-favored James "Sugarbear" Williams, 247-pound left-handed Marine from Omaha, Neb., who won the interservice title.

In the only technical knockout of the night, lightweight Michael Raylor, Western Olympics Trials winner from Hamilton Air Force Base, Calif., beat Morris Harris of Youngstown, Ohio, the Navy champion, in 1:17 of the third round.

James Ross, interservice light middleweight titlist from Canton, Ohio, won a decision over Richard Roval of New York, the 1967 Pan American champion and current Golden Gloves titlist.

As of Jan. 1, 1968, there were 10.6 million automobiles registered in Great Britain.

PGA Compromises, Players Not Happy

HOUSTON (AP) — The Professional Golf Association has indicated the PGA would agree to a control board that would include equal representation for the sponsor, player and the PGA.

Max Elbin, PGA president, appeared before major sponsors of the PGA's $5.6 million tour Thursday. The sponsors were meeting to discuss a dispute between the PGA and the touring professionals. Further meetings were scheduled today.

Most of the touring pros left the PGA Aug. 13 in a dispute over control of the tour. They announced Aug. 19 the formation of a new organization called the American Professional Golfers.

Elbin said if the sponsors group united behind the PGA that the association is ready to formulate the 1969 tour schedule immediately. He also predicted that a united position between the two groups would persuade a majority of the current tournament players to remain under the PGA banner.

Elbin urged the group to share the responsibility for tournament golf with the PGA "and effect a lasting solution to the problems of the last three years."

"Tournament golf is at the crossroads," he told the sponsors. "You have two avenues open to you. Tournament golf can be conducted by the players who want full and complete authority over all activities. Or the game can go forward as a joint enterprise of the sponsors, players and the PGA."

None of the players involved in the dispute attend the meetings.

However, Sam Games, New York attorney, atending the meetings as a representative of new players association, said the new group would consult with sponsors on the operation of the tour but would have no representation on the board of directors.

Games said 161 tournament players had signed with the new group.

He said "the PGA doesn't own the tour" and that it belongs to the public, the sponsors and the players, mosily the players.

Nicklaus, Palmer Miss Golf Series

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The man who has dominated the World Series of Golf will be missing this weekend when the winners of the world's four prestige golf tournaments compete here for gold and glory.

PGA champion Julius Boros, Masters' king Bob Goalby, British Open titlist Gary Player and U.S. Open champ Lee Trevino will shoot for the $50,000 first prize in the 36-hole event Saturday and Sunday.

Setting for the seventh annual World Series is the tough 7,180-yard, par-70 Firetone Country Club course, scene of the six previous events.

Jack Nicklaus, perhaps the top-rated golf professional, failed to qualify for only the second time in the seven-year history of the series.

All-time leading money-winner Arnold Palmer is here, but not a a contestant. He will be announcing for the ABC team that will televise the event.

Penguins Sign Price, Burns

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Two veterans have signed their contracts with the Pittsburgh Penguins for the 1968-69 National Hockey League season.

The Penguins said Thursday Noel Price, a defenseman who will start his 13th pro season, and Charlie Burns, a center acquired in the offseason from Oakland, had come to terms.

Price led the Penguin defense last year scoring 6 goals and 27 assists for 33 points.

Burns is one of the few American-born players in the league. He scored 9 goals and assisted on 26 for 35 points in 1967-68.

The Penguins open training camp Sept. 13 in Brantford, Ontario.

Earl Diddle Will Attend Kentucky JC

Earl Diddle, East Liverpool's all - east basketball player last season, will attend Lindsay Wilson Junior College in Columbia, Ky. this fall.

Diddle had previously announced that he would attend Ashland College, on a basketball scholarship, but Ashland coach Bill Musselman felt that Diddle would have an easier time academically if he spent a year in junior college and then went to Ashland as a freshman, and arranged for Diddle to attend Lindsay Wilson and play basketball there.

Bruce Christian, another standout basketball player at East Liverpool last year, has switched from a football to a basketball scholarship at Eastern Michigan U. in Ypsilanti, Mich. Christian was an all-state defensive end in football.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Brasselle Turns Author

"I'm not out to hurt anybody, really," says Keefe Brasselle, author of the TV novel, "The Cannibals," which goes into the bookstalls Tuesday

Hal Humphrey

Nonetheless, a lot of people are going to be not only hurt, but scared, because although "The Cannibals" is supposed to be fiction, author Brasselle hasn't bothered to hide he identities of many top TV eecutives, including himself, at least to members of the trade.

—:—

AS FOR the general public, there are enough four-letter words and sex byplay to interest a majority of the thrill-seeking readers. As a literary effort, "The Cannibals" never will win any awards, but it will sell, and Brasselle says it's a cinch for the movies ("I've already had offers").

Although even some of his friends doubt it, Brasselle insists he wrote the book himself with no help. It deals with his own experience as the producer and packager of three TV series he sold to CBS for the '64-65 season, when his close friend James T. Aubrey was still president of CBS-TV.

All three Brasselle shows were canceled the first season ("The Reporter," "Baileys of Balboa" and the Cara Williams Show), and after Aubrey was fired from CBS, stockholders accused Abrey of collusion with friend Brasselle and his Richelieu Productions Co. A suit was settled out of court later.

WHEN YOU ASK Brasselle if the Jonathan J. Bingham, president of BCA network, and Joey Bertell, head of Cardinal Productions, are Jim Aubrey and himself, he smiles and says, "No, they're not, but Jim figures in there somewhere." He doesn't deny Joey Bertell is Keefe Brasselle.

As for his earlier statement that he's not out to hurt anybody with the book, he amplifies it by saying, "There's nothing wrong with the TV business except some of the vermin who infest it." In "The Cannibals" every character falls into the "vermin" classification.

Brasselle says he hasn't heard from Aubrey, who now is with Warner Bros.-Seven Arts Studio, and the only statement Aubrey has made about the book is that he hasn't read it.

WHY DID Brasselle write "The Cannibals"? Because, he says, he had to find an area he could be a star in without starting at the bottom, as he did in the movies and TV. The book was completely and diabolically planned for that purpose, Brasselle adds.

"It's going to be a blockbuster. It could even change the scope of TV itself," maintains Brasselle.

That last statement is a highly optimistic one, and also doubtful.

Even "Tthe Canniballs" doesn't contain all of the tricks employed in network TV operations today, many of which have only become more refined since Brasselle's experience of a few years ago.

-:-

BUT "THE CANNIBALS" will be talked about a lot. Brasselle himself will do much of it. He's being booked on every talk show on raadio and TV.

"I may go on Sullivan's show, or at least get a bow from the audience, I'm pretty sure," Brasselle says.

The fact Sullivan is on CBS could kill those aspirations if the network goes sensitive on Brasselle's book.

"That would be something. I'd give anything if a network banned me now," he says. "Y'know, a lot of people, including Jim, didn't believe this book would come out."

-:-

BRASSELL has his own dream cast for the movie — Burt Lancaster as Bingham, Tony Curtis or Tony Franciosa for Joey, Roddy McDowall as the homosexual friend of Bingham, Mickey Rooney for Chester Plan (big New York network executive) and Tuesday Weld as the prostitute Chili Monroe.

Does Brasselle expect any lawsuits over "The Cannibals"?

"Hardly. Is anyone going to be nuts enough to admit one of the characters is him by suing?"

Warning Shout May Have Saved Boy In Fine Sand

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP) — "Don't move a muscle!" Howard Tyler shouted when he saw 9-year-old Randy Griffis sinking in the sand, and the warning may have saved the child's life.

Randy was buried waist deep in fine sand in a hopper car here for two hours before he was rescued Thursday.

The boy and a companion had been playing in the car when Randy started sinking in the sand. The more he struggled, the deeper he sank, until his cries attracted the attention of the 24-year-old Tyler, who was working atop a storage tank nearby.

Police and firemen summoned by Tyler got Randy out by draining the sand gradually from the car.

Taylor, Nelson Attend Rally Of Scout Executives

LISBON — Bennett D. Taylor Jr. of Lisbon and Phillip Nelson of Columbiana represented Columbiana Council, Boy Scouts of America, during the National Conference of Scout Executives Aug. 25-30 at Fort Collins, Colo.

Executives from nearly all the 4,000 councils in the U.S. attended. With wives and children, the assembly numbered 7,900. They took over dormitories and buildings of Colorado State University for the week.

Taylor said the program was geared around the theme "Boypower '76," an eight-year program culminating with the 200th anniversary of the nation.

The national conference was the first for Nelson, hired this year as executive of the Cherokee District — the southern half of the county plus Chester and Newell. He visited the Philmont Scout Reservation in New Mexico after the conference and will leave Sept. 15 for a month of training at the Schiff National Executives Institute at Mendham, N.J.

Taylor is in his ninth year as council executive. He and Mrs. Taylor drove through the Rockies before returning home this week.

Brasselle Turns Author

"I'm not out to hurt anybody, really," says Keefe Brasselle, author of the TV novel, "The Cannibals," which goes into the bookstalls Tuesday

Hal Humphrey

Nonetheless, a lot of people are going to be not only hurt, but scared, because although "The Cannibals" is supposed to be fiction, author Brasselle hasn't bothered to hide he identities of many top TV eecutives, including himself, at least to members of the trade.

-:-

AS FOR the general public, there are enough four-letter words and sex byplay to interest a majority of the thrill-seeking readers. As a literary effort, "The Cannibals" never will win any awards, but it will sell, and Brasselle says it's a cinch for the movies ("I've already had offers").

Although even some of his friends doubt it, Brasselle insists he wrote the book himself with no help. It deals with his own experience as the producer and packager of three TV series he sold to CBS for the '64-65 season, when his close friend James T. Aubrey was still president of CBS-TV.

All three Brasselle shows were canceled the first season ("The Reporter," "Baileys of Balboa" and the Cara Williams Show), and after Aubrey was fired from CBS, stockholders accused Abrey of collusion with friend Brasselle and his Richelieu Productions Co. A suit was settled out of court later.

WHEN YOU ASK Brasselle if the Jonathan J. Bingham, president of BCA network, and Joey Bertell, head of Cardinal Productions, are Jim Aubrey and himself, he smiles and says, "No, they're not, but Jim figures in there somewhere." He doesn't deny Joey Bertell is Keefe Brasselle.

As for his earlier statement that he's not out to hurt anybody with the book, he amplifies it by saying, "There's nothing wrong with the TV business except some of the vermin who infest it." In "The Cannibals" every character falls into the "vermin" classification.

Brasselle says he hasn't heard from Aubrey, who now is with Warner Bros.-Seven Arts Studio, and the only statement Aubrey has made about the book is that he hasn't read it.

WHY DID Brasselle write "The Cannibals"? Because, he says, he had to find an area he could be a star in without starting at the bottom, as he did in the movies and TV. The book was completely and diabolically planned for that purpose, Brasselle adds.

"It's going to be a blockbuster. It could even change the scope of TV itself," maintains Brasselle.

That last statement is a highly optimistic one, and also doubtful.

Even "Tthe Canniballs" doesn't contain all of the tricks employed in network TV operations today, many of which have only become more refined since Brasselle's experience of a few years ago.

-:-

BUT "THE CANNIBALS" will be talked about a lot. Brasselle himself will do much of it. He's being booked on every talk show on raadio and TV.

"I may go on Sullivan's show, or at least get a bow from the audience, I'm pretty sure," Brasselle says.

The fact Sullivan is on CBS could kill those aspirations if the network goes sensitive on Brasselle's book.

"That would be something. I'd give anything if a network banned me now," he says. "Y'know, a lot of people, including Jim, didn't believe this book would come out."

-:-

BRASSELL has his own dream cast for the movie — Burt Lancaster as Bingham, Tony Curtis or Tony Franciosa for Joey, Roddy McDowall as the homosexual friend of Bingham, Mickey Rooney for Chester Plan (big New York network executive) and Tuesday Weld as the prostitute Chili Monroe.

Does Brasselle expect any lawsuits over "The Cannibals"?

"Hardly. Is anyone going to be nuts enough to admit one of the characters is him by suing?"

Warning Shout May Have Saved Boy In Fine Sand

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP) — "Don't move a muscle!" Howard Tyler shouted when he saw 9-year-old Randy Griffis sinking in the sand, and the warning may have saved the child's life.

Randy was buried waist deep in fine sand in a hopper car here for two hours before he was rescued Thursday.

The boy and a companion had been playing in the car when Randy started sinking in the sand. The more he struggled, the deeper he sank, until his cries attracted the attention of the 24-year-old Tyler, who was working atop a storage tank nearby.

Police and firemen summoned by Tyler got Randy out by draining the sand gradually from the car.

Taylor, Nelson Attend Rally Of Scout Executives

LISBON — Bennett D. Taylor Jr. of Lisbon and Phillip Nelson of Columbiana represented Columbiana Council, Boy Scouts of America, during the National Conference of Scout Executives Aug. 25-30 at Fort Collins, Colo.

Executives from nearly all the 4,000 councils in the U.S. attended. With wives and children, the assembly numbered 7,900. They took over dormitories and buildings of Colorado State University for the week.

Taylor said the program was geared around the theme "Boypower '76," an eight-year program culminating with the 200th anniversary of the nation.

The national conference was the first for Nelson, hired this year as executive of the Cherokee District — the southern half of the county plus Chester and Newell. He visited the Philmont Scout Reservation in New Mexico after the conference and will leave Sept. 15 for a month of training at the Schiff National Executives Institute at Mendham, N.J.

Taylor is in his ninth year as council executive. He and Mrs. Taylor drove through the Rockies before returning home this week.

The DOCTOR Says

By Dr. W. G. Brandstadt

What To Do For Allergies

A mother writes that her daughter, 12, has recurring bouts of allergy. For three years she has been getting desentizat i on shots but her spells have not decreased. In treating any allergy the main reliance must be placed on an accurate i d e ntification of the offending allergen, then avoiding it if possible. Desensitizaton usually helps if graduated dilutions of the allengen are used. Failing this, atihistamines must be used as needed for temporary relief.

Dr. Brandstadt

Q—My son, 10, had a penicillin shot. Four days later he had a severe case of hives. The doctor said it was a delayed reaction to the penicillin. Now every time he goes outdors when the weather s cold he breaks out in hives. Our pediatrician says he is allergic to cold. Is this possible? Is there any cure for this?

A—Exposure to cold gives many persons watery eyes, a running nose and sneezing, which may or may not be an allergic reaction. In a few persons this reaction may be greatly exaggerated or, like your son, they may develop hives. Such persons are treated by avoiding exposure to cold, large doses of antihistamines and by desensitization through very gradually increased exposures to cold, keeping the exposure just below the amount known to cause a reaction.

Q—Our daughter, 7, suffers from chronic bronchitis and is generally run down. The doctor says that we must make her eat but she eats less each day. She will not eat vegetables or fruit at all. Can you suggest a tonic or other treatment to get her to eat?

A—I doubt that you can make your daughter eat and any attempts to do so will only make her worse. All children do not need the same kind or amount of food and many a child with a feeding problem has straightened out when allowed to choose her own diet without any interference from her parents. As long as she drinks a lot of milk she won't starve. Offer her an ounce or two of orange or tomato juice but don't make a point of her taking it.

THE BEST TONIC for your daughter is a happy home atmosphere, some outdoor exercise every day, girls her own age to play with and plenty of restful sleep. If her failure to eat is due to an emotional problem, she may need the help of a child psychologist.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Federal Health Planners See New Breed Of Nurse On Way

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal health planners say there's a new breed of nurse on the way to provide the kind of personal home care that busy doctors have little time for.

The nurses—men and women—will need five to six years of college and university training for their roles as family health counselors.

Although they are to take over many of the functions doctors used to perform, the home-visiting nurses will work under the supervision of physicians.

"This new concept will take some getting used to," says Dr. Leonard D. Fenninger, director of the federal health manpower programs. But he predicts that in 10 to 20 years, visiting nurses will be "the common thing."

Public health nurses and other nurses have been functioning for years in somewhat the capacity envisioned for the new nurses.

But the new nurses would operate more independently. They would serve families or individuals as a first contact for all health problems, handling the ills they can and turning the others over to doctors.

The government has contributed to two projects which have put part of the approach into practice.

One project has nurses at the University of Colorado serving as assistant pediatricians. Nurses give the youngsters in a clinic the checks and care they need, turning over to doctors only the cases they can't handle.

The second project, supported entirely by a $150,000 federal grant, was set up by the Tuskegee Institute in Tuskegee, Alabama. Nurses from the school went around rural Alabama in a mobile health unit, providing care to youngsters. The effort expanded to homes of the youngsters. Soon nurses were treating whole families.

Shafer Sets Meeting With GOP Leaders

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Shafer has scheduled a Sept. 11 meeting with Republican legislative leaders to discuss the timetable for the General Assembly the rest of this year.

Shafer originally had planned to meet with the leadership this week.

His office said Thursday that the conference had to be delayed because it was impossible to arrange a mutually convenient date before next week.

Invited to the meeting were Senate President Pro Tempore Robert D. Fleming, Majority Leader Stanley G. Stroup, House Speaker Kenneth B. Lee and Majority Leader Lee A. Donaldson.

The legislature currently is in recess and the GOP leadership has announced its intention to extend the break through the Nov. 5 elections.

Th purpose of the meeting is to review the unfinished business of the session and chart a schedule accordingly, Shafer aides said.

Meanwhile, House Democratic Leader Herbert Fineman asked the governor and the GOP leadership to reconvene the legislature this month as originally planned.

He wrote Shafer, "At a time when the legislative branch of the government should desperately be endeavoring to enhance its image and restore public confidence in its operation, it is unthinkable that we should have our work in an uncompleted stage."

Charges Are Filed Against Supermarket

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — John M. Stackhouse, state agriculture director, announced Thursday that charges have been filed against the Marsh Supermarket of Piqua in connection with the sale of a nondairy dessert product labeled as "Chill R."

Stackhouse said an investigation showed that the product contained fat other than butter fat, in violation of Ohio law. The investigation was made by the department's division of foods, dairies and drugs.

If a motorist were to drive over all the toll roads, across all the toll bridges and through all the toll tunnels in the United States, he would pay a total of $164.90 in tolls.

The DOCTOR Says

By Dr. W. G. Brandstadt

What To Do For Allergies

A mother writes that her daughter, 12, has recurring bouts of allergy. For three years she has been getting desentizat ion shots but her spells have not decreased. In treating any allergy the main reliance must be placed on an accurate identification of the offending allergen, then avoiding it if possible. Desensitizaton usually helps if graduated dilutions of the allengen are used. Failing this, atihistamines must be used as needed for temporary relief.

Q—My son, 10, had a penicillin shot. Four days later he had a severe case of hives. The doctor said it was a delayed reaction to the penicillin. Now every time he goes outdors when the weather s cold he breaks out in hives. Our pediatrician says he is allergic to cold. Is this possible? Is there any cure for this?

A—Exposure to cold gives many persons watery eyes, a running nose and sneezing, which may or may not be an allergic reaction. In a few persons this reaction may be greatly exaggerated or, like your son, they may develop hives. Such persons are treated by avoiding exposure to cold, large doses of antihistamines and by desensitization through very gradually increased exposures to cold, keeping the exposure just below the amount known to cause a reaction.

Q—Our daughter, 7, suffers from chronic bronchitis and is generally run down. The doctor says that we must make her eat but she eats less each day. She will not eat vegetables or fruit at all. Can you suggest a tonic or other treatment to get her to eat?

A—I doubt that you can make your daughter eat and any attempts to do so will only make her worse. All children do not need the same kind or amount of food and many a child with a feeding problem has straightened out when allowed to choose her own diet without any interference from her parents. As long as she drinks a lot of milk she won't starve. Offer her an ounce or two of orange or tomato juice but don't make a point of her taking it.

THE BEST TONIC for your daughter is a happy home atmosphere, some outdoor exercise every day, girls her own age to play with and plenty of restful sleep. If her failure to eat is due to an emotional problem, she may need the help of a child psychologist.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Federal Health Planners See New Breed Of Nurse On Way

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal health planners say there's a new breed of nurse on the way to provide the kind of personal home care that busy doctors have little time for.

The nurses—men and women—will need five to six years of college and university training for their roles as family health counselors.

Although they are to take over many of the functions doctors used to perform, the home-visiting nurses will work under the supervision of physicians.

"This new concept will take some getting used to," says Dr. Leonard D. Fenninger, director of the federal health manpower programs. But he predicts that in 10 to 20 years, visiting nurses will be "the common thing."

Public health nurses and other nurses have been functioning for years in somewhat the capacity envisioned for the new nurses.

But the new nurses would operate more independently. They would serve families or individuals as a first contact for all health problems, handling the ills they can and turning the others over to doctors.

The government has contributed to two projects which have put part of the approach into practice.

One project has nurses at the University of Colorado serving as assistant pediatricians. Nurses give the youngsters in a clinic the checks and care they need, turning over to doctors only the cases they can't handle.

The second project, supported entirely by a $150,000 federal grant, was set up by the Tuskegee Institute in Tuskegee, Alabama. Nurses from the school went around rural Alabama in a mobile health unit, providing care to youngsters. The effort expanded to homes of the youngsters. Soon nurses were treating whole families.

Shafer Sets Meeting With GOP Leaders

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Shafer has scheduled a Sept. 11 meeting with Republican legislative leaders to discuss the timetable for the General Assembly the rest of this year.

Shafer originally had planned to meet with the leadership this week.

His office said Thursday that the conference had to be delayed because it was impossible to arrange a mutually convenient date before next week.

Invited to the meeting were Senate President Pro Tempore Robert D. Fleming, Majority Leader Stanley G. Stroup, House Speaker Kenneth B. Lee and Majority Leader Lee A. Donaldson.

The legislature currently is in recess and the GOP leadership has announced its intention to extend the break through the Nov. 5 elections.

Th purpose of the meeting is to review the unfinished business of the session and chart a schedule accordingly, Shafer aides said.

Meanwhile, House Democratic Leader Herbert Fineman asked the governor and the GOP leadership to reconvene the legislature this month as originally planned.

He wrote Shafer, "At a time when the legislative branch of the government should desperately be endeavoring to enhance its image and restore public confidence in its operation, it is unthinkable that we should have our work in an uncompleted stage."

Charges Are Filed Against Supermarket

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — John M. Stackhouse, state agriculture director, announced Thursday that charges have been filed against the Marsh Supermarket of Piqua in connection with the sale of a nondairy dessert product labeled as "Chill R."

Stackhouse said an investigation showed that the product contained fat other than butter fat, in violation of Ohio law. The investigation was made by the department's division of foods, dairies and drugs.

If a motorist were to drive over all the toll roads, across all the toll bridges and through all the toll tunnels in the United States, he would pay a total of $164.90 in tolls.

Junior Editors Quiz on GRAVITY

QUESTION: How can plants grow up if gravity is always pulling them down?

* * *

ANSWER: It's true that objects on the earth's surface are directed towards its center by what is called gravity. But Earth is one of the smaller planets. The gravitation is not strong enough to prevent many things from rising upward, at least for a time. Throw a ball up into the air. The impetus from your throw makes it rise against gravity. When the impetus is used up, gravity takes over and the ball falls. The young corn plants are shooting up their spearheads because of a mighty impulse which is driving them: the search for sunlight. They must have this to act as the force which will power the little factories in their leaves, allowing these factories to manufacture starch and sugar as plant food. When the plant has enough leaves in the sunlight, the upward tendency stops (right). Now the plant can attend to making flowers and fruits. The plant is no longer concerned with itself alone. It must make rich kernels which will, in time, cause other vigorous young corn plants to thrust upward toward the sun.

Proposed 17 Major Changes

Bailey Calls For Stronger Election Laws In W. Va.

CHARLESTON (AP) — Citing "the ideal time to secure time," Secretary of State Robert D. Bailey has joined the two major candidates for his office in calling for stronger election laws in West Virginia.

In a report on alleged voting irregularities in Mingo County during the May primary, Bailey proposed 17 major changes "to make it harder to vote the people your way."

Both candidates for secretary of state on the November ballot-Democrat John D. "Jay" Rockefeller IV and Republican John S. Callebs — have produced their versions of stronger voting laws.

—:—

BAILEY'S report, made public Thursday, asked the West Virginia Election Commission, of which he is a member, to study and take whatever action is necessary. He suggested the commission meet in early October.

Bailey endorsed a proposal to broaden the secretary of state's power, making him the state's chief election official instead of top registration official.

He also urged selection of election officials by lot, which he said would eliminate "the greatest chance of fraud."

The report discusses specific charges in more than 50 affidavits signed by members of the Mingo County Fair Election Committee, but does not affirm or deny their validity.

"This report neither hangs any one nor does it attempt to whitewash any charge," he said.

The charges ranged from alleged liquor bribes to threats of physical violence and manipulation of voter selections inside voting booths.

—:—

BAILEY'S recommendations included the renewal of six legislative bills which died in committees when previously presented. These bills included using plastic voter cards, requiring registration cards before giving absentee ballots, requiring the mailing of absentee ballots, elimination of election day activities such as soliciting votes, transportation of voters and requiring candidates to account for all campaign funds including committees.

He also proposed:

Measuring the distance for polling places from the main entrance to the building, not the voting room.

Requiring registrars and election officials to pass a written examination prepared every two years by the secretary of state.

Requiring the county court to provide sufficient voting machines in good working condition to allow 80 per cent of the registered voters in each precinct to use 15 minutes to vote.

Requiring absentee voters to swear to the reason for being absent.

Disqualifying an non civil service government employe as an election official.

Permitting new state residents to vote in presidential elections without requiring them to meet residency requirements.

Specifying the closing of the polls sufficiently enough to remove any misunderstanding.

Chenault Takes Oath To Replace Gilligan

CINCINNATI (AP) — William J. Chenault, 39, was sworn in Thursday as a city councilman, filling the vacancy of John J. Gilligan who resigned to devote full time to his U.S. Senate campaign.

Chenault, appointed by Mayor Eugene P. Ruehlmann, becomes the sixth Negro to serve on the council since 1925. He is the only Democrat on the council.

Negro Boy's Letter Wins Him TV Role

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A 13-year-old Negro boy's letter has won him a brief role in a new television series.

"I just can't believe it," said Calvin Peeler, 13, of Greeneville, Tenn., whose eloquent pen brought him to Hollywood and the script-reading test he passed Thursday.

The producer said Calvin, called "Little Peeler" by his friends, was "excellent."

The co-executive-producer called it "a one-in-a-million shot."

The co-executive-producer's daughter-secretary, who had spotted Calvin's application letter in the mail, said: "This is better than Christmas!"

Calvin will act next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday in a filmed-for-later showing segment of "Mayberry, R.F.D.," this fall's CBS network successor to the Andy Griffith show. He will be paid $750.

Delivering the Daily Sun to 125 customers in his home town, he said he makes $12-14 a week.

"Little Peeler" is soft-voiced, handsome and well manered, with close-cropped hair and a front tooth broken when he fell in the school playground.

The Greeneville Junior High eighth-grader wrote recently on lined notebook paper to Richard O. Linke, the co-executive producer.

"Please read every word Please!" he began.

Calvin suggested that a white boy on the show have a Negro friend, and "I could play the part."

"Don't you see?" he asked. "That's what Negroes want to see."

Australian Cites Reason For U.S. High Crime Rate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An Australian jurist and diplomat told 300 Ohio judges Thursday that "weak and maudlin" judges were partly to blame for soaring crime rates in the United States.

Sir Reginald R. School, Australia's consul general in the United States, told the closing session of the Ohio Judicial Conference that American courts should get tough with criminals.

School expressed "extreme astonishment" at what he described as the appeasement of rioters for sociological or racial reasons.

He said a preoccupation with "over-legalism and over-elaboration of personal rights" had brought America to the brink of anarchy.

He was critical of court leniency, noting that FBI statistics indicate most criminals repeat their offenses.

Attorney Will Speak At Veterans' Dinner

LISBON — Donald Lewis, local attorney, will speak during the World War I Veterans monthly dinner meeting next Thursday noon at American Legion Post 275 on W. Lincoln Way.

Organized by Benjamin Firestone Post 290 of Columbiana, the group meets the second Thursday each month at various places in the Columbiana-Mahoning county area. All World War I veterans are invited. The only charge is the price of the meal.

Reservations are to be made with Ralph Reddington of Columbiana by Monday. Reddington will preside Thursday in place of Harry H. Ferrall of Leetonia RD. president, who is ill.

Walkouts Continue Elsewhere

Pay Hike Averts Teacher Strike In Philadelphia

By The Associated Press

A threatened teachers' strike in Philadelphia has been averted but hundreds of teachers elsewhere in the nation continue walkouts that have delayed the opening of the fall term.

Any hopes for an extended vacation among 290,000 Philadelphia school children were dashed Thursday when the city put together a $27.6 million wage package to avert a strike by the 12,500 teachers.

Under the new two-year pact, salaries go up $1,800 to give beginning teachers $6,700 at the start and pushing the top wage to $13,200. The fall term opens today.

In Michigan where schools were scheduled to open earlier this week, 11 school districts serving almost 64,000 youngsters remained closed due to teacher' strikes.

Today' scheduled registration for 14,000 children in the Montgomery County - Clarkville, Tenn., system was postponed until further notice with 500 teachers out on strike over school budget cuts.

In East Chicago, Ind., a strike by nearly 500 teachers enters its third day. Six of the city's 13 schools were closed again Thursday and less than 50 per cent of the 100,000 pupils showed up. All but about 2,100 were sent home.

In East Chicago Heights, Ill., 49 of the district's 70 teachers called in sick Thursday and an attorney for the board declared it was "impossible for that many teachers to be sick at the same time."

A court injunction was obtained ordering the teachers back to work immediately but there were no indications as to whether they would comply.

An injunction was issued in Rhode Island directing Cumberland teachers to end a two-day boycott and report to classrooms today. A lawyer for the Cumberland Teachers Association said its members would comply.

The judge also ordered the Cumberland School Committee to meet with the 250-member association. Only 60 teachers showed up Thursday but the town's 13 schools opened briefly for 5,500 students.

Teachers in East Haven, Conn., did not report Thursday and were not expected in the classroom again today. The dispute involves about 200 teachers in 14 public schools with 6,000 students.

In New York City, where the United Federation of Teachers threatens a strike next Monday, school supervisors voted to shut the schools "for the safety of the children" in the event of a walkout.

The libretto of Verdi's opera, "Rigoletto," is based on Victor Hugo's play, "The King Amuses Himself."

Heart Attack Fatal To Ohio Inventor, 70

YELLOW SPRINGS, Ohio (AP)—S. Sergius Vernet, an inventor and businesman who was generous to education as a philanthropist, died Thursday.

He died at Community Hospital in Springfield after suffering a heart attack at his home here. He was, in his 70s.

Vernet sold about half of his some 100 patents. Many of his inventions were in the automotive industry, and they included the Vernitherm, a thermostat used in automobile engines, airplanes and appliances.

Vernet worked for the Franklin Motor Co. of Syracuse, N.Y., before going into business for himself, first in New York City and since 1934 here. He founded Vernay Laboratories here in 1946. The company employs about 250 persons in research and also in the manufacturing of molded rubber parts.

Other Vernet inventions over the past 50 years included a cold weather carburator, an automatic engine starter, automatic windshield wipers and a cooling device for air - cooled engine.

Walkouts Continue Elsewhere

Pay Hike Averts Teacher Strike In Philadelphia

By The Associated Press

A threatened teachers' strike in Philadelphia has been averted but hundreds of teachers elsewhere in the nation continue walkouts that have delayed the opening of the fall term.

Any hopes for an extended vacation among 290,000 Philadelphia school children were dashed Thursday when the city put together a $27.6 million wage package to avert a strike by the 12,500 teachers.

Under the new two-year pact, salaries go up $1,800 to give beginning teachers $6,700 at the start and pushing the top wage to $13,200. The fall term opens today.

In Michigan where schools were scheduled to open earlier this week, 11 school districts serving almost 64,000 youngsters remained closed due to teacher' strikes.

Today' scheduled registration for 14,000 children in the Montgomery County - Clarkville, Tenn., system was postponed until further notice with 500 teachers out on strike over school budget cuts.

In East Chicago, Ind., a strike by nearly 500 teachers enters its third day. Six of the city's 13 schools were closed again Thursday and less than 50 per cent of the 100,000 pupils showed up. All but about 2,100 were sent home.

In East Chicago Heights, Ill., 49 of the district's 70 teachers called in sick Thursday and an attorney for the board declared it was "impossible for that many teachers to be sick at the same time."

A court injunction was obtained ordering the teachers back to work immediately but there were no indications as to whether they would comply.

An injunction was issued in Rhode Island directing Cumberland teachers to end a two-day boycott and report to classrooms today. A lawyer for the Cumberland Teachers Association said its members would comply.

The judge also ordered the Cumberland School Committee to meet with the 250-member association. Only 60 teachers showed up Thursday but the town's 13 schools opened briefly for 5,500 students.

Teachers in East Haven, Conn., did not report Thursday and were not expected in the classroom again today. The dispute involves about 200 teachers in 14 public schools with 6,000 students.

In New York City, where the United Federation of Teachers threatens a strike next Monday, school supervisors voted to shut the schools "for the safety of the children" in the event of a walkout.

The libretto of Verdi's opera, "Rigoletto," is based on Victor Hugo's play, "The King Amuses Himself."
